Ives Says Truman Lost Leadership as Price Stops Ended

Controls Were Lifted, He Says, Because G.O.P. Forced Issue, Thus Handing Defeat

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Irving M. Ives, Republican senatorial nominee, said last night that the lifting of federal price controls by the Democratic administration stripped the party "of the last vestige of its claim to leadership.

He said at rallies sponsored by Republican organizations in Brooklyn and Queens that the lifting of the controls was taken under what he termed strong Republican pressure. Ives said that this indicated President Truman's administration had "made a complete confession of its fundamental error."

"In the face of the dynamic belief of the Republican party in the free competitive system and in free trade unionism, given full support by the American people," Ives continued, "these men in Washington have already admitted their defeat on November 5."

He added:

"This campaign has offered the most striking evidence that the Republican party speaks with the voice of the people. It required Republican candidates to clear up the fog with which the leaders of the present Democratic party had obscured their fumbling with this great nation's reconversion to sound postwar economy. Republican candidates focused the attention of the American people to the sorry fact that the government's controls and regulations were throttling production and denying this nation the necessities of life.

"The truth of the Republican party's insistence on the need for restoring a free economy was so apparent that the Truman administration has been forced to retreat from its position. In the midst of a political campaign it has made a complete confession of its fundamental error.

Action With Reluctance

"With great reluctance it is beginning to lift the controls. These weak, confused men in Washington have been stripped of the only idea they have ever had for guiding the country."

Referring to the recent Moscow radio broadcast in which the commentator commended candidates supported by the C.I.O. Political Action Committee, Ives said the broadcast was a "piece of impudence," and added:

"The resentment of the American people to this piece of impudence was immediate and loud.

"The radical groups which support the present Democratic administration now know they have no chance of electing candidates of their own. So they have concentrated on candidates that wear the Democratic label.

"In the confusion which riddles the present Democratic party and has overwhelmed the present administration in Washington, they hope to find an opportunity to get a stranglehold in our government. The comment from Moscow has given away the show."

Delegates Await Talk By Molotov on Report

Attitude in General Assembly Is to Wait and See What Happens; Timing of Stalin's Replies Is Noted

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Delegates to the United Nations Assembly looked to a speech scheduled for 4 p. m., E.S.T., today by Soviet Minister Molotov for a further definition of the policies stated last night from Moscow by Generalissimo Stalin.

As the general debate was resumed in the Assembly this morning, delegates took a wait-and-see attitude on the replies Stalin made to 31 questions put to him by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press Associations, but expressed the conviction that Molotov would expand on questions raised by those answers.

"We will just wait and see how Molotov puts it," one big power delegation chief said. He commented on the "timing" of Stalin's replies which were released on the eve of Molotov's major policy address in the Assembly.

Special significance was read into Stalin's statement on Russian armed forces in the light of a White Russian blast last night at the presence of United States troops in China and British forces in Greece, the Middle East and Indonesia.

Some delegates said this would bear on the discussions of Russia's demand in the Assembly for an accounting of Allied troop dispositions and air and naval bases in foreign non-enemy countries.

Stalin's defense of the veto power and its use in the Security Council by the Russian delegation hits squarely against a sharp attack by smaller nations aimed at limiting the knockout voting power of the five major powers.

Diplomatic authorities speculated that Molotov, speaking for the first time in the Assembly's general debate, now drawing to a climax, probably would hammer

Housewives Look For Better Buying As Strikes End

Eastern Part of Shipping Tieup and Trucking Stoppage Comes to Halt

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Long-harrassed housewives, beset by strike-induced food shortages, conjured up visions of heavy dinner tables today as the eastern phase of the maritime strike ended and the lingering trucking dispute came to virtual cessation.

The worst transportation blockade in the city's history was lifted when ship officers withdrew picket lines from around most east and gulf coast ports and holdout truck operators, breaking ranks after 57 days of resistance, flocked to sign contracts with striking truck drivers yesterday.

In the maritime strike, the A.F.L. Masters, Mates and Pilots Union formally ended the 28-day strike against east-gulf coast operators with an announcement of a 2,646-to-691 favorable vote on an agreement reached Saturday.

The announcement followed the withdrawal of picket lines permitting longshoremen to begin unloading millions of pounds of sugar and other cargo that had been tied up in ships in New York harbor.

Members of the C.I.O. Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, which struck with the masters, Oct. 1, already had approved an agreement reached with Atlantic and Gulf coast operators last Tuesday.

Both unions, still on strike on the west coast, won 15 per cent wage increases—their demands were for 30 and 35 per cent boosts, respectively.

In a compromise on the issue of preferential hiring for masters which prolonged the deck officers' negotiations, the operators granted preference to the union skippers but won a stipulation that the captains did not have to be union members.

In the trucking dispute, which had dammed up the flow of commerce in the metropolitan area, the holdout operators dissolved their organization and signed up with the three locals of the Teamsters Brotherhood.

Theodore Kheel of Mayor William O'Dwyer's Labor Relations Division said reports to him from the Police Department and the unions involved indicated that the operators were signing union contracts and asserted that "the back of the strike had been broken."

"The few employers who are still unsigned," he said in a statement "will settle up with the local unions within the next day or two at the most."

David Kaplan, chief economist for the Teamsters Union, said flatly "the strike is over," so far as Local 807, the largest of the Locals, was concerned. Locals 816 and 282 also are on strike.

Terms under which individual firms signed contracts gave the drivers $71.40 for a 40-hour week instead of $64 for a 44-hour week. It also gave premium pay and vacation guarantees.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—The position of the treasury October 25: Receipts $89,785,823.75. Expenditures $95,285,291.67. Balance $7,839,574,036.55. Customs receipts for month $37,019,129.52. Receipts fiscal year July 1 $11,376,724,165.39. Expenditures fiscal year $11,879,250,918.07. Excess of expenditures $502,526,752.68. Total debt $263,750,425,108.79. Decrease under previous day $5,573,342.87. Gold assets $20,387,605,343.39.

Traffic Is Normal

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—New York Central railroad traffic was back to normal today after a freight derailment near Palmyra yesterday morning which blocked main line tracks all day.

Dewey's Appeal Is to End 'Trend' Of Regimentation

People Must Rule Human Services, Governor Tells His Radio Audience

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—Governor Dewey today entered the last lap of his race for a second term with an appeal to voters to reject what he denounced as "trend" in Washington toward an "all-powerful government by regimentation."

"I think the most dangerous thing that is happening in this country is the taking away from the people the control of their own services," Dewey said last night in a statewide radio broadcast from the executive mansion.

If the Truman administration "puts up the money it runs the show," he declared with reference to governmental aid to localities.

"That is the kind of policy your Republican Administration in Albany does not believe in," the governor asserted. He cited his administration's social welfare, public health and anti-juvenile delinquency programs as examples of state-aided but locally-directed projects.

The people "must control the human services that have always been rendered by neighbor to neighbor," Dewey maintained. "They must control their schools, their sanitation, their health and their welfare services."

Demands Are Rejected

He said his administration had "rejected those demands that the state set up a bureaucracy to run the services in all our cities and counties and towns and villages," but he added that "standards were put into the law and will be maintained."

Home rule in New York "has been strengthened these past four years," Dewey said, "and by that process free government has been strengthened. The trend we see in Washington toward the all-powerful government by regimentation has been turned back in the state * * *."

Reviewing the integration and simplifications of local welfare services Dewey said that when he took office he found that persons needing help were being "pushed

G. F. Irvine Gets Vet Appointment

Will Be Field Worker for On-Job Training of Former G.I.'s

The appointment of Gordon F. Irvine of Wallkill, as field representative for the veterans' on-the-job training program in the Albany district, was announced today by Edward J. Neary, director of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

The position carries an annual salary of $3,120.

The Albany district over which Mr. Irvine will have jurisdiction includes Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Columbia counties.

Mr. Irvine is a veteran of the first World War and until his present appointment had been serving as deputy director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency for the past two and a half years.

Mr. Irvine said he would divide his time between the Kingston and Wallkill offices. The Kingston office is located at 240 Main street.

The new on-the-job director is a former county commander of the American Legion. He is president of B Company of the 7th Regiment Veterans Association. He has been actively identified in civic work in Wallkill and is president of the Chamber of Commerce and a committeeman for the boy scouts in Wallkill.

Bergan Says Board Had No Papers

Police Board Lacked Eligible List, Hence Could Not Act, He Rules

Files New Order

Roedell Attorney Will Appear Friday Against Civil Service

Justice Francis Bergan has dismissed the application of William T. Roedell, a member of the Kingston police force, who sought under a show cause order to require action by the Kingston Muncipal Civil Service Commission and the Board of Police Commissioners to take immediate steps to appoint him to one of the existing vacancies as a lieutenant on the Kingston police force.

New Order Obtained

The latest development in the case was a new order to show cause why the Kingston Municipal Civil Service Commission should not immediately act to certify to the Kingston Board of Police Commissioners an eligible list from which appointment of two police lieutenants may be made.

This was obtained today by Charles Gaffney, attorney for Sergeant William T. Roedell, who seeks one of the appointments.

The order to show cause was granted by Justice Bergan and is returnable on Friday at special term here.

Application was made to Justice Bergan following the signing of an order by Justice Bergan which dismissed a similar proceeding which was begun earlier this month. That application was denied on the grounds it was not shown that the commission had sufficient time to act.

Has Had List Since September

In his present petition Mr. Gaffney says that the commission has had a list of successful candidates since September 9, and has taken no action to certify an eligible list to the police commissioners. The present application seeks to compel the commission to promulgate a list from which the police board may make the appointments. Mr. Gaffney called attention to the fact that the commission meets each fourth Tuesday of every month and has had time for two meetings since the results of the examination have become known, but has taken no action to date.

Theory of Dismissal

The action against the Police Commissioners is dismissed on the theory that that body has no duty to perform until the Municipal Civil Service Commission has established an eligible list from which an appointment could be made.

In his memorandum Justice Bergan states that "it is pleaded the list ought to be established, but not that it has been established and therefore the proceeding is not presently available against the Board of Police Commissioners and it is dismissed as to these respondents."

By the decision handed down today Justice Bergan holds that in regard to the Municipal Service Commission "the dates alone are not sufficient for a court to say with certainty that between September 9 and October 16, it must necessarily have been practicable for the Commission in the management of the public business committed to it, to have established a list." Justice Bergan dismisses the petition as to the Municipal Civil Service Commission but with leave "to plead over facts alleging that the list should now be established by the commission."

Under the language of the decision of Justice Bergan it is likely that the next step will be the application for an order to show cause why the Muncipal Civil Service Commission should not now certify an eligible list from which an appointment can be made.

Took Exam in April

Originally William T. Roedell, a sergeant of the Kingston police force, with others took an examination last April for promotion to the rank of lieutenant. He was one of the three high on the list, according to results of the examination which were received. Being a veteran he became entitled to certain privileges which automatically because of his rating following the examination entitled him to become first on the

President Announces 5-Man Board of Civilians to Steer U. S. in Handling of Atom

Retired Engineer To Be Lamplighter

Edward C. Klothe Will Inaugurate Annual TB Seals Sales

A genuine old-time lamplighter will serve as the reincarnation of the 1946 Christmas Seal campaign's official emblem—the lamplighter seeking light in the battle to destroy tuberculosis—Edmund P. Rochford, Hercules plant manager and chairman of the publicity committee, announced today.

The lamplighter, who will inaugurate the drive for $20,000 in Kingston and Ulster county during the Christmas holiday season, is Edward C. Klothe, of 142 Elmendorf street, a retired West Shore Railroad locomotive engineer.

A second professional lamplighter has been located, Executive Secretary Katherine M. Murphy said last night. He is Clarence Barton, a former resident of Pennsylvania now working on the Dimmick estate in the town of Rosendale. Mr. Barton probably will touch off the county lights. Years ago he was a lamplighter in his home town in Pennsylvania.

Will Perform Duties

Mr. Rochford stated that Mr. Klothe will perform his lamplighting duties in connection with the start of the Christmas Seal sale on November 25.

Mr. Klothe, introduced to members of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association by Mr. Rochford last night at a meeting of the Christmas Seal committee, said that in 1889 he lighted gas lamps from Golden Hill to Bruyn avenue where the New York Telephone building is now located.

Mr. Rochford explained that he needed a real full-blooded lamplighter, if one could be secured, because this year's Christmas Seal emblem reflects the determined search for light in the battle against tuberculosis.

Volunteers Services

Stating that so far as he knew he was the only lamplighter left in Kingston, Mr. Klothe volunteered his services, asserting that he could still perform the duties required of a lamplighter. He said he recalled vividly the days when he earned $3 a month dispelling darkness in his section of Kingston.

Spikes In His Feet

In his remarks to the committee, Mr. Klothe recalled the old days when the lamplighter was a pretty important individual in the community.

"I went to No. 8 school at that time," Mr. Klothe explained, "and after school I scampered off

Power Expert, Physicist, Editor, Retired Naval Officer, Banker Are Chosen

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—A five-man board of civilians made ready today to take over from the army the momentous task of guiding this country into the atomic age.

The five—a federal power expert, a physicist, an editor, a retired rear admiral and an investment banker—thus shouldered "responsibilities as great as any men have ever assumed in peacetime."

Those were the words President Truman used in announcing the make-up of the all-powerful new Atomic Energy Commission, headed by David E. Lilienthal as chairman.

"The consequences of our work, for good or evil, are awesome," Lilienthal said, yielding up his chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley authority to accept the assignment.

With Lilienthal, Mr. Truman selected for the commission set up three months ago by Congress:

Dr. Robert F. Bacher, 41-year-old Cornell University physicist

Yetzer Being Held For Alleged Attack On Girls Sunday

Glenerie Youth Awaiting Grand Jury on Assault Charges; Also Blamed for Burglaries

Troopers of the Lake Katrine station last night arrested Richard Charles Yetzer, 17, of R.F.D. Saugerties, at Glenerie on a charge of second degree assault in connection with an alleged attack on two young girls Sunday afternoon in Kerhonkson.

Yetzer, who was identified by state troopers from a description given by the two girls, was arraigned before Justice Percy Bush in the Town of Ulster. He waived examination and is being held in the Ulster county jail to await action of the grand jury.

On Parole, Troopers Say

State Trooper E. J. Rock, who arrested Yetzer at his home at Glenerie, said that the alleged attacker is now on parole from the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry, N. Y.

Yetzer is also charged with several house burglaries committed in the vicinity of Kingston, Trooper Rock said.

The troopers completed their investigation swiftly after the girls

Clark Gets Dispute Over What Shall Be Done to Plant

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—A table thumping dispute between two government agencies over whether a $170,947,000 war plant should be put to work turning out homes or cars landed in Attorney General Tom Clark's lap today.

At stake is whether the huge Dodge-Chrysler Corporation plant at Chicago, one of the largest built during the war, will go to the Tucker Corporation for production of a new-type automobile, or to the Lustron Corporation for the manufacture of pre-fabricated housing.

The National Housing Administration yesterday invoked its own war powers as well as the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act to "direct" that the plant be leased or sold to Lustron. The War Assets Administration, which previously had rejected less formal demands from N.H.A. on the ground that a lease had already been made with the Tucker Corporation, checked the matter up to the Justice Department.

"The directive," W.A.A. said, "will be submitted to the attorney general for an opinion on the legality of the order." At the same time W.A.A. reiterated that it considers itself "legally obligated to stand by" its September 18 letter with Tucker.

Preston Tucker, president of the Tucker Corporation, expressed a similar view. He added that he would decide upon a "course of legal action" after consulting his lawyers.

"The plant leased to us which the N.H.A. now is trying to award to somebody else is in no way suited for prefabrication of houses," Tucker's statement continued. "Our engineers estimate that a new firm coming into the plant at this time could not start producing prefabricated houses before the end of 18 months or two years."

N.H.A., on the other hand, declared in its formal order that the plant was not only particularly suited for housing production but was needed among other reasons because of defense requirements. The agency elaborated on this by saying that defense includes "meeting the existing housing emergency which is vital for an orderly transition from war to peace."

Yesterday's clash between N.H.A. and W.A.A. was confined to a series of press releases. It is known, however, that Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and W.A.A. Chief Robert M. Littlejohn have exchanged hot words over the matter during the past several weeks.

Churchill Welcomes Statement by Stalin

London, Oct. 29 (AP)—Winston Churchill said today he welcomed Prime Minister Stalin's statement that there were only 60 Russian divisions in "The territories he mentions."

"But even 60 divisions on a war footing would, of course, greatly exceed the British and American forces in enemy-occupied territory in Europe," said the former British prime minister, who conferred many times during the war with Stalin.

"Moreover, Premier Stalin's figures do not include Romania."

(Dispatches direct from Moscow and a translation as broadcast by Tass, the Russian news agency, included Romania among the countries listed, along with Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, and Poland, although the original question and answer did not appear to include that former enemy state.)

Churchill's statement, issued through the British Press Association, said Stalin's figures did not "include the heavy Soviet concentrations in the Leningrad and Odessa regions."

46 Men Are Held

Havana, Oct. 29 (AP)—Forty-six men were held without bail today on charges of conspiring to overthrow the legally constituted government of Cuba in an armed revolt.

Stalin Says Russia Has No Atom Bomb, Similar Item

London, Oct. 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin declared today the Soviet Union has not developed an atom bomb or any similar weapon and said Russia's troop strength in the occupied countries of Eastern Europe totalled 60 divisions, to be reduced in two months to 40.

In response to 31 questions submitted to him by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press Associations, Stalin accused Winston Churchill of being among the "instigators of a new war," and disagreed flatly with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes that there is a growing tension between Russia and the United States.

In responses to other questions, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, Stalin declared:

The government of the U.S.S.R. is "indifferent" to the presence of American warships in the Mediterranean.

He does not feel the veto power has been used to excess either in the U.N. Council or in the Foreign Ministers' Council.

Russia regards the western borders of Poland as permanent.

Russia feels that "Yugoslavia has grounds to be dissatisfied" with the peace treaty drafted for Italy at the Paris conference.

The U.S.S.R. regards "as unnecessary" the presence of British troops in Greece.

He believes that "not only the economic, but also the political unity of Germany is to be desired."

The responses to Mr. Baillie's questions constituted the second such interview Stalin had granted in a period of slightly more than a month. On September 24, in answer to questions submitted by Alexander Werth of the Sunday Times of London, he said he could see no danger of a new war.

In today's answers, he said he felt "the instigators of a new

State Will Erect $7,000 Fence on Public Works Site

New York State's Department of Public Works storehouse in Kingston will be fenced in at a cost of $7,000, according to a list of projects up for consideration.

A press release from the New York Department of Public Works says that bid proposals covering 37.80 miles of highway construction on six projects and two other maintenance projects will be received by Charles H. Sells, State superintendent of public works at the State Office Building in Albany Wednesday, November 13 at 10 a. m. The total estimated cost of the eight jobs is $1,100,000.

Concerning Ulster county's project, the announcement states: erecting woven wire fence and gates at the department's Kingston's storehouse site; estimated at $7,000.

The state highway department has been storing its road equipment in a garage on Clage street. Some time ago the Common Council has asked for permission to erect a modern building on a proposed site off Hurley avenue. At that time it was said by officials of the state department that it planned to enclose the grounds with a high wire fence.

New Paltz, Oct. 28 — Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen M. Smith, 85, widow of Mrs. Paul Smith was held Wednesday morning at her home on South Chestnut street at 9:30 o'clock and from St. Joseph's Catholic Church at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Smith had been in ill health for some time but only confined to her bed a few hours before she died on Sunday. Bearers at the funeral were Alonzo Gaffney, John Lucy, Thomas di Lorenzo, Frank Van Gonsie, Webb Kniffen and Erastus Gerald. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery, Poughkeepsie.

Funeral services were held at Windham October 22 for Clayton Ernest Andrus, 30, youngest of four children of Ernest Andrus and the late Myrtle Vining Andrus, Clayton, who with his wife and five small children resided at South Gilboa, met a tragic death while helping his father on a logging job. While driving a tractor up the mountain to get the last of the logs the machine turned over, pinning Clayton underneath. The father's desperate efforts to release him were in vain. When help came and he was extricated, the doctor pronounced him dead. Surviving besides his wife and five children are his father; stepmother; grandmother; three brothers, Clifford and Donovan of Windham and Clinton of New Britain, Conn.; two sisters, Dorothy of Wallkill and Madeline of White Plains.

Susanna B. LeFevre, widow of Josiah P. LeFevre, died Monday evening at her home on Plattekill avenue in New Paltz after a long illness. She was 78 years of age. Mrs. LeFevre was born in Modena the daughter of the late Oliver B. and Margaret DuBois Church. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roy Denniston of Gardiner and Mrs. Raymond Jenkins of Salisbury, N. C., and three grandchildren. She was a member of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Paltz and also of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the V. T. Pine & Son Funeral Home, New Paltz. The Rev. Gerrett Wullschleger will officiate. Burial will be in the Modena Rural cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

The funeral of Thomas Mahar was held Monday morning at 8:45 o'clock from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock where a Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Francis Molony, with the Rev. John A. Flaherty in the sanctuary. Many assisted at the requiem and during the days the remains reposed in the funeral home, friends came to pay their last tribute of respect. The clergy calling and saying the prayers for the dead were the very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.R.V.F. and the Rev. Father Flaherty. Sunday evening the Rev. Father Molony visited the home and assisted by the relatives and and friends recited the rosary. The casket bearers were John Heidcamp, George Dawkins, Frederick Schryver, and John Dawkins. Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery where the final absolution was given by the Rev. Father Flaherty.

Pennsylvania Jeep Claimed Here Yesterday

A Pennsylvania-licensed army jeep that has been parked at the John Pulveranti gasoline station across the viaduct was claimed yesterday by the Scott Motor Company of Washington, Pa.

An official of the Scott company made a special trip by airplane to recover the car. He brought with him a young man who drove the jeep back to Pennsylvania.

The car was reported stolen on August 16 and was located here a few days later. Officials of the company were notified and they requested that the jeep be held here until their arrival.

General Dies

LEONARD P. AYRES

Brig. Gen. Leonard P. Ayres, 67, internationally known business statistician, died of a heart attack at his home today. He was a vice president of the Cleveland Trust Co.

General Ayres suffered the heart attack while reading his morning newspaper. He was found by his housekeeper.

Never married, General Ayers had a rich career as an Army and business statistical expert.

His statistical studies for the Army in both World Wars covered manpower, casualties, and logistics and led to revision of many military policies.

He was famed in Cleveland and throughout the nation for his annual business forecasts. He was to have delivered his 26th annual forecast in December before the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

list. At the present time there are two lieutenants of police, both holding office under temporary appointment pending the certification of an eligible list. Both took the examination and one, Lieut. Raymond Van Buren, also a veteran, was among the three high on the examination while the the third was Lieutenant Leonard who is not a veteran. Both Van Buren and Leonard now hold the positions under temporary appointment.

An order to show cause why he should not be appointed a police lieutenant was secured by Sergeant Rodell from Justice Bergan and was returnable on October 18, two days later. At that time Charles Gaffney appeared for Sergeant Roedell and Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig appeared in opposition. Mr. Ewig asked that the matter be dismissed on the grounds of insufficiency and decision was reserved. Justice Bergan gave petitioner until October 21 to file briefs and the respondent was given until October 23 to reply.

Bergan's Decision

The decision of Justice Bergan which was released today in part says:

"The rating of an examination under Civil Service Law, by the State Civil Service Commission for a city position is not establishment of an eligible list. It is, as the Statute says, a 'service' by the State Commission in aid of the local authorities. The local Commission, using this aid, promulgates the list. But the list itself is promulgated as a city function by city officers and not by the state."

"Petitioner alleges certification of the results of the examination by the State Commission on September 9. He alleges that while the duty of the municipal commission under Rule XV is to establish a list as soon as practicable. No list had been established when the petition was verified on October 16. No fact is alleged to show that the period is 'as soon as practicable.' This provision means reasonable diligence in dealing with the general duties of the municipal commission. It means due regard for the commission's usual business, the volume and nature of other questions currently before it and its usual procedure in dealing with similar cases.

"The phrase 'as soon as practicable' means what it implies in current usage and no facts are alleged from which it may be concluded as a matter of law on the face of the petition that it was the duty of the Commission to have reached and determined the question by October 16.

"The petition is dismissed as to the Civil Service Commission, but with leave to plead over facts allowing that [illegible] and how be established by the Commission."

Krug Says U.S. Has Not Surrendered To John L. Lewis

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—Despite President Truman's flat dictum that there will be no coal strike, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug made it clear today that the government has not surrendered to John L. Lewis on his demand for a new coal contract.

By implication, Lewis has threatened a walkout by his 400,000 soft coal miners on November 1, four days before the elections.

Hours after Mr. Truman had declared that the strike threat was "finished," a spokesman for Krug told a reporter late last night at Tahoe City, Calif., that Krug's action in arranging a conference between Lewis and Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collisson was "a compliance only with Mr. Lewis' request for a meeting."

Krug, who is on a western inspection tour, had telegraphed Lewis on Sunday arranging the meeting for Friday.

"Does that telegram mean the government will reopen the coal contract?" a reporter asked.

"It does not say that," the spokesman replied.

Delegates Await Molotov's Speech

on many, if not all, of the main points of Soviet criticism of the western powers initially set forth in a session last night by Kuzma Kiselev, foreign minister of White Russia, one of the constituent republics of the U.S.S.R.

Molotov Speech Listed

Molotov was slated to take the rostrum at the second of the day's two session (11 a. m. and 4 p. m. E.S.T.). Altogether representatives of 10 countries were due to be heard, including Syria, Ethiopia, Bolivia, the Philippines and The Netherlands at the first session and Canada, Greece, Australia and Colombia at the second.

There was some behind the scenes activity on selection of three nations to replace The Netherlands, Mexico and Egypt on the Security Council at the end of the year. Britain and the United States were reported to favor Belgium, Syria and Colombia, but the British were giving some consideration to India instead of Syria and no final decision had been reached.

With Molotov and other ranking members of the Soviet delegation in the Assembly auditorium at Flushing last night, Kiselev made these charges against the United States and Britain:

By maintaining troops in China, and in Greece, the Middle East and Indonesia they are breaking the United Nations charter.

In China the United States is not following a policy calculated to maintain the peace of the Far East.

Britain is doing everything possible to maintain troops in the Middle East.

The presence of such troops in various non-enemy countries will only lead to unrest among the peoples.

His assertions introduced a new element of controversy into the general debate which entered its fifth day with other disputes raging also over small nations demands for doing away with the great power veto in the Security Council and over continuation of the Franco government in Spain.

Both the White Russian spokesman and Foreign Minister Wyincenty Rzymowski of Poland assailed Spain under Franco as a hotbed of post-war Nazi scheming for revenge against the Allies, and both also defended the veto system as essential to continued unity of the great powers.

Added His Demands

But they did not speak until after Sir Carl Berendsen, New Zealand minister to Washington, had added his demands to those of a dozen other small nation spokesmen for an early end to the veto, despite the fact that Russia, the United States and Britain all contend it cannot be discarded at this time.

Kiselev and Rzymowski were the first speakers to present views regarded among their fellow delegates as aligned with the policies of Moscow. In fact, Kiselev's speech was described by informants in position to know as an authoritative presentation of Kremlin ideas.

But this was by no means all, for the Russians are reported on good authority to be pleased, on the whole, with the generally friendly atmosphere which has prevailed over the initial meetings of the Assembly here, and there was some expectation that this attitude might be reflected in the Soviet foreign minister's speech.

Molotov goes to the rostrum a day ahead of Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, who is scheduled to deliver tomorrow a declaration of American policy on the whole veto issue. Austin has been one of the principle promoters of the idea that Russia and the western powers can work out their differences in friendly fashion, and in his speech he is expected to try to minimize conflict with Russia over the veto.

Yetzer Being Held For Alleged Attack On Girls Sunday

had furnished a clear description of their alleged attacker.

Flaws in Story

Trooper Rock said Yetzer told him that he had been to Port Jervis and had then hitch hiked as far as Kerhonkson. Then he got another ride, finally reaching home last Sunday night, the youth said. Yetzer's story failed to stand up under intensive questioning and his arrest followed.

According to the story of the two girls, they were walking along Route 209 near the Kerhonkson cemetery Sunday afternoon when they were stopped by a young man who said he wanted some information on the Albany bus schedule.

Rough Treatment

The girls said that after the man made some remarks they became frightened and ran into the cemetery. One of the girls fell and was roughly handled by the man. However, the girls both managed to escape and make their way home with nothing more serious than some torn clothing.

The mother of one of the girls emphasized that the alleged attack occurred Sunday afternoon and not Saturday night as previously reported. She said that since the girls were minors they were not permitted out on Saturday nights.

Ponca City Salesman Quits Job to Form His Own Union

Ponca City, Oka., Oct. 29 (AP)—George Biggs grew so tired of labor and management quarreling, he said today, that he quit a top job with a $100,000,000 oil firm to start a union based on salesmanship and cooperation.

"There's nothing this country needs as badly as it needs cooperation," said Biggs, former sales promotion manager for the Continental Oil Company.

"Quarreling and arguing, one group shouting demands about its rights and the other shouting back—all this has been going on for a long time and not much has resulted but trouble and the promise of more trouble to come."

In a statement outlining the aims of his new union, which Biggs said he is starting with his own funds, he declared:

"It's time to stop fighting and start cooperating. I'm going to do something about it. I think I'm in a very good position to start a movement. I've been a salesman for 30 years and this is a job for salesmen.

"Salesmen are not 'management', nor are they 'labor'. They are halfway between these two groups who have argued so bitterly in the past and have accomplished little beyond getting a lot of people thoroughly angry at each other."

Biggs said that salesmen get better pay, better working conditions and more security in their jobs than any other class of employes because of "their peaceful, friendly, cooperative methods" and added that he believed all other workers could use the same methods.

"I propose to organize a union of all employed people. As soon as this new union can gain a majority in any single plant I plan to claim bargaining rights under existing laws," Biggs explained.

"When we get those bargaining rights we shall then go to the employer and sell him a program of cooperation in which he can make money and we can draw higher wages. We shall not present him with a set of demands but with a profit-making program. We shall not make threats. We shall not make promises."

As soon as six locals are formed, Biggs added, he will call a national convention to adopt a constitution and by-laws and elect members.

Kingston Truck Drivers Are Idle Because of Strike

Other Nearby Places Are Also Affected; Chauffeurs Ask $58 a Week

Truck drivers in Kingston, Middletown, Port Jervis and Newburgh have been idle since Monday morning as the result of a strike called against the major trucking concerns of the four cities by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, Local 445.

Anthony Braden, president of Local 445, said today that the Needes Trucking Service and Van's Auto Service of Kingston had signed a contract with the union and that the Styles Company is the only local major company not yet signed.

The union president said the union is seeking a flat rate of $58 per week, a 5-day week, with time and a half pay for over-time after 9 hours for the so-called "third axle trailers," the highest truck driving classification. He denied reports that the union drivers were seeking a 60 per cent wage increase.

Other Increases Sought

Other wage increases sought by the union drivers include:

$53 per week for trailers and 10-wheelers; $48 weekly for straight trucks and $45 weekly for helpers and platform men. Other stipulations include double time for Sundays and holidays; 11 paid holidays and two weeks vacation with pay.

Mr. Braden said the contract between the union and truck operators expired on October 1. He indicated that the union's plans for the contract dispute were completed at a meeting of the truck drivers held in Kingston last night.

Challenges Yerry

Anthony Braden, president of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, today challenged a printed statement by George E. Yerry Jr., business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council, that the newly formed Republican Labor Committee included a member of Local 445.

Mr. Braden issued the statement at a meeting of Local 445 officers this morning at Local 17 headquarters in the Opera House building.

"I challenge Mr. Yerry's statement published in your paper last Saturday that the Republican Labor Committee includes a member of Local 445," Mr. Braden told a Freeman reporter.

"Mr. Yerry has not contacted any officers of Local 445," Braden asserted, adding that "no officer in this organization was given authorization to make such a statement."

Bourbon Price Skyrockets

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 29 (AP)—Bonded Bourbon whiskey soon will be available in liquor stores here and elsewhere, industry spokesmen said today, but "the price will stagger you a bit." P. Booker Robinson, Liberty National Bank's authority on whiskey dealings, said the prices probably would range between $7.50 and $9 a fifth, compared to a price of around $4 a fifth under O.P.A. ceilings. But there was little or no merchandise available at the latter figure.

Propaganda Pops Up

Rome, Oct. 29 (AP)—Fascist propaganda which popped up at many places in Italy yesterday—the 24th anniversary of Benito Mussolini's march on Rome—spurred police today to an intensive investigation of Italian print shops. A nationwide plan apparently guided followers of the dead Duce in yesterday's commemorations, for there was marked similarity in the leaflets handed out. ## 14 Indictments Returned by Jury In Supreme Court

Seven Are Sealed, Seven Are Open; Six Are Sent to Ulster County Court

Seven sealed and seven open indictments were returned today by the grand jury in attendance at the October term of Supreme court. There was one dismissal.

All sealed indictments were transferred to County court for disposition and assignment of counsel of defendants named in open indictments will be made by the County court.

Those named in open bills and whose cases were transferred to County court after pleas of innocent had been entered were:

Richard Gerard and Clarence Cook, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry for the alleged entering of poultry houses at Lake Katrine and Stone Ridge.

Riccardo Fierro, morals charge, allegedly committed in town of Plattekill.

Granville Quick, Jr., burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry.

James Curtis Blair, grand larceny for the alleged taking of a car in Kingston.

William Silas Gray, grand larceny, first degree, for the taking of his employer's truck and alleged wrecking of it in the town of Gardiner.

Angelo DeSteffano, Brooklyn grand larceny, for the alleged killing of a cow in the town of Lloyd.

Republicans Expect Happy Results From Pennsylvania

By JACK BELL

Philadelphia, Oct. 29 (AP)—Republicans looked today on strike-plagued Pennsylvania as a happy hunting ground for what they say might be the G.O.P.'s biggest demonstration of power November 5. Democrats counted on a last-minute shift to elect Senate, House and governor candidates.

Wearied by steel, coal, manufacturing, power, hotel and even beer strikes, Pennsylvanians appeared to be preparing to translate into action at the polls a week from today some of the dissatisfaction they seemed to have with the way things have been going in general.

Gov. Edward Martin and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor interpreted this in terms of what Taylor called a "sweeping" victory for the Republican ticket with the G.O.P. holding its governorship, ousting Senator Joseph Guffey (D.) and picking up from five to eight House seats from the Democrats. Any such outcome probably would represent the Republicans' largest gains in any one state.

Into Specific Terms

Governor Martin put the Republican claims into more specific terms. He said the whole ticket would win by a margin of 275,000 votes.

But Guffey, meeting Martin's challenge for his seat, and J. Warren Mickle, state Democratic chairman, saw it in different light.

Guffey told this reporter he thinks there has been a "definite turn" in sentiment among the prospective voters in the last few days from what he and other Democrats generally had recognized earlier as a national tide running against the "ins."

"We've got a good chance to win this election," Guffey, who has become the focal point of a Republican drive aimed at discrediting the national administration's handling of the problems of reconversion.'

Democratic campaign workers generally contended that they were making inroads in attacks on Martin's record as governor.

Taylor insisted, however, that Guffey and his record of unwavering support for the Roosevelt and Truman administrations is the principal issue of the campaign.

Guffey Says He's Proud

Guffey retorted that he is proud to be known as the No. 1 Roosevelt supporter in Pennsylvania. He has been attempting to cast his campaign along that line, with little mention of President Truman, the battle over O.P.A. conrols or the foreign policy controversy engendered by the New York speech of Henry A. Wallace, former secretary of commerce.

The state's rash of strikes spilled over into the political arena recently when A.F.L. Teamsters leaders called on their members to support the Republican ticket in the controversy with the C.I.O. Brewery Workers. The Democrats have a C.I.O. indorsement but the A.F.L. State Federation declined to choose between the parties.

from one agency to another in a merciless web of bureaucracy."

Under the new setup, he said, persons seeking help need to apply at only one office. "They are no longer pushed around by the cumbersome bureaucracy we inherited from our predecessors," he added.

State Aid Increased

The governor recalled that state aid to localities had been increased to a point where now they have to pay only 20 per cent of their welfare costs.

He recounted also that under 1946 legislation increased state aid has permitted wide expansion of local public health services, with emphasis on elimination of tuberculosis.

To combat juvenile delinquency, the governor said, the state has established "a concrete program of action" by which it pays one-half the cost of any approved program in any of its communities.

"We will not put the long arm of the state into a community or into people's homes to direct them in the handling of children," Dewey promised.

Dewey will leave Albany tomorrow afternoon for New York city where he will wind up his campaign with several formal and extemperaneous speeches.

Spring Temperatures Prevail in Kingston

Springlike temperatures prevailed in Kingston last night and this morning with the official thermometer registering a low of 63 degrees for the warmest night so far recorded in Kingston this month.

In Ponckhockie a forsythia bush is reported in full bloom, an unusual event for this period of the year.

Heavy outer garments were shed today by residents and indications were this morning that this afternoon temperatures would be registered in the 70's.

So far this month there has been a total rainfall in the city of 1.29 inches.

The highest temperature recorded yesterday afternoon was 69 degrees.

Clapp Is Selected

As Lilienthal's successor as head of the giant T.V.A., Mr. Truman named Gordon R. Clapp, general manager of the government utility since 1939. Clapp received the appointment, which is effective Nov. 1, on his 41st birthday.

The president announced his selections at a special news conference late yesterday.

He signed legislation creating the commission August 1, then spent 12 weeks searching for men whose "abilities and experience" he believes "will command the confidence of the country."

Their appointments, as well as that of Clapp, are subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January.

Of the tremendous unprecedented task facing the commission, which takes over from the army full supervision of atomic energy and production of atomic bombs, Mr. Truman said in a little to Lilienthal:

"The era in which we live is momentous and the problems with which you as chairman, and your colleagues as members of the commission, will have to deal are of supreme importance.

"The character and the solution of these problems will determine the course of civilization."

The President stressed that the Commission will have to take time to study the army's multi-billion-dollar atomic program in detail before it can carry out "its very great responsibilities."

He said the transition "may well extend over a period of months," and that during that time the War Department will continue to operate the atomic energy program "so that there will be no interruption in work."

Confirmation Is Expected

Senate confirmation of the appointments generally is expected, although Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.) already has served notice that he will do all he can to block approval of the Lilienthal nomination.

Saying "the only one I really know is Bill Waymack," Senator Hickenlooper (R., Iowa), a member of the special Senate Atomic Committee, declined to comment "until I know more about the others.

Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) termed the selections "disappointing," and added:

"I had hoped the President would choose the outstanding men of the country for this commission. I do not know some of these well, but they do not appear to measure up to the top personnel of the nation."

Urey Gives Statement

Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel prize winner who helped develop the atomic bomb, had this to say:

"Among atomic scientists generally Mr. Lilienthal has been their first choice for chairmanship of the Commission. Dr. Bacher is a well known physicist with very good judgment and executive ability.

"Others on the Commission are not so well known by scientists but all reports are favorable."

Baruch, whose official plan for international atomic energy control was based principally on a report which Lilienthal helped prepare for the State Department, expressed pleasure over appointment of the Commission.

"I and my associates will, of course, cooperate fully with its membership," Baruch said in a statement issued in New York.

The Commission members, present at Mr. Truman's news conference, plan to get down to actual work as soon as they have arranged their business affairs.

Under the law they must devote full time to their new assignment. As chairman, Lilienthal will receive $17,500 a year. The others will be paid $15,000.

Outline of Authority

Here in brief is an outline of the Commission's authority:

It will promote atomic research and development by private and public institutions and through its own organization.

It has exclusive control over all fissionable material and facilities used in the production of atomic bombs. It may authorize others to produce fissionable materials.

It will set up and direct divisions of military application, research, engineering and production, each in charge of a director to be paid $14,000 a year.

It also may distribute atomic material for research or medical use; license the manufacture of equipment for using atomic energy; buy fissionable material abroad for defense; take over for public use any patents for making or using atomic energy.

The World Today

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

If you were the British government, what response would you make to the demand that 100,000 European Jewish refugees be admitted to Palestine forthwith?

That's not an easy question to answer, is it—looking at it from the standpoint of say Prime Minister Attlee? I dare say John Bull would give a handsome reward to the one who could supply him with what h regarded as a satisfactory solution.

John is in an unhappy position. He's going to be damned if he does, and damned if he doesn't. On the one hand he has President Truman urging that Britain carry out the recommendations of the Anglo-American Commission on Palestine that at least 100,000 Jews be allowed to enter the Holy Land immediately. On the other are King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, and other Arab leaders, who are battling Jewish immigration. There even have been threats from influential Arabian quarters that if Britain throws Palestine open to immigration, the Arab population of the Middle East will turn to Russia for support—this being a threat to England's influence in that strategic area.

Not Strongly Related

One of the first points we encounter in examining this troublesome problem is what relation, if any, there is between the immigration of a hundred thousand Jews and the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. We must admit immediately that the creation of a Jewish state will tax the skill of the world's sages. However, broadly speaking it would seem that the matter of the Jewish state and this limited immigration aren't strongly related.

Some experienced observers feel that the addition of this number of Jews to the population wouldn't have any material effect on the bigger issue. If we were talking about half a million immigrants, it would be different.

No Heavy Burden

Apart from the political aspect, 100,000 refugees wouldn't place a burden on the present Jewish-Arab population of the Holy Land—not with the help which they would receive from England and America. Then too we must remember that these distressed folk are homeless and want to be with their own people—a very natural desire. I know how they feel about that; because I talked with many of them in Germany early this year. They all wanted to go to Palestine because it meant "home" to them. Consideration must be given to that plea.

Now it would be worse than foolish to think that the Arabs don't mean business in their insistence that they have their place in the Palestine sun. They are a brave people and if it should come to a show-down they are quite capable of fighting for that place. And just so would the Jews.

However, having spent considerable time in the Middle East during the past thirty years, one takes the liberty of doubting whether the Arabs would resort to arms, or yet call on Moscow for support, over the matter of further Jewish immigration which was guaranteed to be moderate pending adjustment of the whole situation. There always is danger of racial rioting in that part of the world, but organized war is another thing.

Naturally it is essential that Britain retain the good-will of the widespread Arab populations. However, John Bull equally needs the friendship of the great and powerful bodies of Jewish citizens in England, America and other countries.

So, looking at the thing from all sides, one wonders that John doesn't feel impelled to make the gamble of oepning the doors to these 100,000 displaced persons. The odds are that he could make this handsome gesture to a needy people without creating fresh hazards for himself. There are times when we must take chances, and this would seem to be one of them.

Horsemen Re-elect Elmer Palen as Their President

Chambers, Walker Chosen Again for Offices in Association of Kingston

Elmer Palen was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the Kingston Horsemen's Association held Monday evening at the Hotel Ulster. The other officers, all re-elected, are A. H. Chambers, vice president, and Harry B. Walker, secretary and treasurer.

The directors named last night are David Schenck, John H. Roosa, E. Frank Flanagan, William Mellert, C. H. Hummer, Jr., Ferd Gildersleeve, Auley Roosa, J. H. McCabe, Clifford Anderson, Arthur Byrne and Dr. Morton Lown.

The association decided to hold its annual banquet in the near future and President Palen appointed Harry B. Walker, Ferd Gildersleeve and Clifford Anderson as a committee to make arrangements for the annual event.

President Palen also appointed C. H. Hummer, Jr., John H. McCabe as a committee to arrange entertainment for the banquet.

The Kingston Horsemen's Association is one of the oldest organizations in the city, and numbers among its membership the majority of prominent men of the city and vicinity who have retained their interest in horses.

Mr. Palen and Mr. Walker are two of the oldest members of the association, and both have held office for more than a quarter of a century.

to my lamplighting route. They were gas lamps, on posts, and I carried a 6-foot ladder with spikes in the feet so I didn't slip off the poles. I heated the burner of the lamp a bit with my match and soon a good light came forth, and the quart of gas in the reservoir kept it going all night."

"On Saturday mornings," Mr. Klothe continued, "I went over this route and cleaned the glass of the lanterns which looked a lot like that on the Christmas Seals this year, and I thought it was a pretty good job for an 11-year-old boy."

The old time lamplighter recalled that No. 8 school in 1889 was a stone building situated where the brick school is now, and he didn't mind the long trek to the lamps. He said, too, that part of the city at that time had gas lights.

Stalin Says Russia Has No Atom Bomb

war, in the first place Churchill and others of like mind in Britain and the U.S.A.," constituted "the worst threat to world peace" now.

"If such a threat should arise," Baillie asked, "what would be the best steps to be taken by the nations of the world to avoid a new war?"

"The instigators of a new war," said Stalin, "are to be exposed and curbed."

His declaration that Russian troops in Eastern Europe numbered 60 divisions constituted an answer to Churchill's suggestion, in the form of a question before the House of Commons last week, that the Soviet Union had 200 divisions there, on full war strength.

He gave a flat "no" answer to an inquiry as to whether Russia had yet developed an atom bomb or any similar weapon and repeated his September 24 appraisal that the atom bomb "cannot decide the outcome of war." Nevertheless, he said he felt that "strict international control" of atomic power was necessary.

Stalin said he hoped that present negotiations would result in peace treaties which would establish cordial relations among the nations which were allies in the war and eliminate the danger of war from former Axis sources.

HALLOWEEN

The annual city-wide Halloween party for the children of the city will be held Thursday evening, October 31. The program calls for parades from both the uptown and downtown sections and festivities at the Municipal Auditorium. The American Legion, the Forty and Eight Society and the City Recreation Department conduct this "annual night of fun", which is enjoyed by thousands of children.

This program, which provides a good time for the youth of the city as well as the grown-ups who accompany them, should be enjoyed to the fullest. Halloween is one of the most popular occasions of the year for the children and in recent years they seem to be getting full enjoyment out of the celebration.

Many of the old forms of violence and destruction have gone out of favor with the young people, who know that vandalism destroys the spirit of Halloween. In other years it might have been a question of not having something better to do. The celebration for real fun and genuine pleasure is a demonstration of cooperation between the children and parents. The result is a delightful time for all.

With the continued cooperation of the parents and children, this Halloween also should be free from any destructive practices or disorderly acts. The destruction of property is a violation of the law and the children should be so warned by the parents. The children should be encouraged to join in the city-wide celebration.

The night of goblins and ghosts should bring real fun to the children and the grown-ups as well.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Girl Scout Week, which now is being observed, will be marked by the more than a million members with a postwar active citizenship program designed to make "Better Citizens to Build a Better World."

Girl Scouting, the largest organization of its kind for girls in the world, was founded in the United States 35 years ago by Juliette Low, in whose memory national Girl Scout Week is celebrated annually. This organization, which is comprised of girls of all nationality, race and creed, serves over a million young girls. With sponsorship and more volunteer leaders it could serve a million more.

Women with a genuine interest in girls, with a hobby to share and with an interest in the future of the world has something to offer the Girl Scouts.

Under the competent direction and supervision of trained volunteer leaders, Girl Scouts everywhere are becoming more and more an indispensable part of community, nation and international life.

FROM WAR TO PEACE

America's newest city has just voted. Oak Ridge, Tenn., was born four years ago as a $2,000,000,000 gamble for victory, mysterious, secret, not a part of Tennessee, but a Federal oasis. It now emerges as a permanent city with state and civil rights. It is going to be a permanent city of about 43,000 inhabitants, and it is girding for its future. There are no unemployed. Its working forces of 30,000, whittled down from war's peak of 66,000, labor in the three great plants, live in 3,000 single family unit homes, or smaller apartments, some containing only one room and bath. Rents run from $35 to $75. The people like their city, their homes, their work.

Atom City, as Oak Ridge is sometimes called, is going on. Its new job is to be studying and experimenting with peace-time uses for the fission magic.

BASEBALL STRENGTH

The St. Louis victory in the world's series refutes the current notion that the American is the stronger of the two major leagues. Out of the last seven world's series the National champion has won four. On the other hand the annual All-Star games have been American victories, nine games to four.

Inherently there is no reason why one league should in the long run be stronger than the other. Both have access to the same minor league supply of players, and fully as much money is represented in National League ownership as in American.

After all, there are a few new cars on the road.

THE SMALL NATIONS

The U.N. Assembly is faced by two conflicting forces: one, the imperialism of the Great Powers; two, the rights of the small nations.

Curiously, the small nations may be more stable, more secure, more prosperous than the Great Powers. For instance, the Argentine is economically and even politically in as good, if not better, a situation than Great Britain. Certainly, Australia and Canada are more stable than Soviet Russia. Holland and Belgium may be small in Europe, but their empires are large and their international influence considerable.

Therefore, the phrase "small nations" is a poor description of the fact. It would be simpler to say that the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, by the fortunes of war, are the Dominant Powers, and that the remainder of the human family, constituting some 50 nations and the majority of peoples, are the subordinate powers. And among these may be included France and China, which while nominally among the Dominant Powers, are actually treated as subordinates. Only military might is the measure of power.

It is even possible to say with a fair degree of accuracy that there are only two dominant powers, the United States and Soviet Russia, for they possess the might to reduce others to their will.

Such a division is impossible if human history means anything at all. No country, not even the miserable Satellite States of Europe, can long remain subordinate to other powers without risking spirited uprisings among their own people. Neither the United States nor Soviet Russia can master the wills of men, if they are so minded, even if they succeed in subordinating governments to their policy. The division of the world into spheres of policy (often called spheres of influence) is no new concept, even though Henry Wallace acts as though the idea sprang full-blown from his Jupiter-like intellect. It has often been tried. It has always failed. And it has failed because while governments may appease might, the spirit of men serves liberty.

Thus, the U.N. Assembly, even more than the Security Council, faces the historical fact that nationalism continues to exist and will not be downed by the "One World" propaganda which the Great Powers, particularly Great Britain and the American banking houses, have been pressing so actively. The "One World" concept is designed to weaken nationalistic trends in the hope that international policy, for all peoples, can be hammered out in compromises among the Great Powers without consultation of the small nations. "One World" would reduce all countries to the status of satellites of a few. Both Lend-Lease and the Export-Import Bank have been used as instruments of this policy as U.N.R.R.A. has been used as a political instrument to carry out the Yalta and Potsdam decisions. The United States expended $49,096,125,000 in Lend Lease, receiving a return of $7,345,747,000 from our allies.

According to Mr. Roosevelt's "Grand Design," these contributions to the treasuries of other countries, including Saudi Arabia and all the South Americans, should have corrupted them sufficiently to make them amenable to his concepts of the future of the human race. Actually, it has done nothing of the kind, for as soon as the Assembly met, Mexico, Brazil, and other small nations attacked the Veto which is the core of process of domination. Abolish the Veto and the Assembly becomes a parliament. Continue the Veto and the Assembly remains a forum for debate. Yet, neither the United States nor Soviet Russia will risk the abolition of the Veto, for then the small nations, by combinations and blocs, could produce a majority which would reduce the Great Powers to equality with the small. It is the Veto which nullifies the design of a Parliament of Man. It is the Veto which makes U.N. tentative, unsure.

This is the central problem that the U.N. Assembly faces. It may take years to hammer it out. But the task is worth-while, for war is more costly than words and the alternative to debate is war.

TREATING MIGRAINE

The usual description of migraine is that symptoms are one-sided headache, nausea and vomiting, that the cause is unknown, and the usual treatment to give relief is ergotamine tartrate or breathing in pure oxygen.

However we are learning more about migraine and a more exact description is given by Drs. Stuyvesant Butler and William A. Thomas (Presbyterian Hospital, Chicago) in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Headaches are classed as migraine is they are paroxysmal (sudden, violent) one-sided, usually behind the eye and are preceded by dizziness or loss of balance. Allergy, especially to chocolates is a frequent symptom. These is nausea, and vomiting, but patient is free of nausea and vomiting, dizziness and other symptoms between attacks.

The drug used by Drs. Butler and Thomas is histamine and treatment was given to 34 cases of migraine all of whom had the typical symptoms. No patients were included in this group of 34 patients, whose symptoms could be caused by any known disease such as sinusitis, neuralgia of the face or scalp, high blood pressure, eye strain or brain tumor. Treatment consisted of the injection into a vein of 1 mg. histamine as 2 to 5 mg. histamine acid phosphate. This is diluted in 500 cc. isotonic solution of sodium chloride and injected slowly, rate usually starting at about 5 drops per minute and being increased as rapidly as is tolerated. The entire injection usually takes 4 to 8 hours. Blood pressure is taken hourly and treatment stopped if any decided drop in pressure occurs.

Treatments were not given to patients with high blood pressure, heart or kidney disease, mental or central nervous disease, peptic ulcer. Only 3 patients failed to obtain relief. Twenty-four were free from symptoms for months after treatment was given. Some of these patients had been suffering with migraine for as long as 25 years.

I am again mentioning this method of treatment for migraine as some patients have not been helped by other methods. It, of course, can be seen, that this method requires great care on the part of the physician or nurse in giving the treatment.

Popular Palms for Window Plants

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

WELL-GROWN palms add both a feathery and tropical atmosphere to the window gardens. Formerly, palms were used only for wedding decorations, hotel lobbies and perhaps barber shops. Today, however, the dwarf varieties are suitable plant material for even the smallest apartments.

The Weddell palm, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, is considered the most delicate and graceful of all palms. It should be placed in a north window and grows easily if given both moisture and good drainage. It is the smallest of all palms grown for home culture. It is sometimes grown in fern dishes for table decoration.

The Roebelini, also illustrated, is a fine house palm. It is slow growing and tractable. It also is of the feathery type, with the leaf stems all springing from near the base so that it forms a graceful "fountain of green." This palm is beautiful even when small and is extremely hardy.

Two other desirable palms for home use are Howea belmoriana and Howea forsteriana.

Palms always do best in small pots but unfortunately most people over-pot them instead of keeping them root-bound. Overly large sized pots encourage a soggy stagnant condition of the soil which results in a sickly looking palm.

Palms prefer a heavy garden soil well enriched with manure. It is advisable not to expose them to direct sunlight. An abundance of water is necessary during summer months but should be sparingly applied during winter. Frequent syringing and washing of the leaves to remove dust is beneficial.

Wigwagging Grows Up

The first men to use flags to send messages from ship to ship were Army Signal Corpsmen, aboard Federal warships at the battle of Mobile Bay in 1862. Today wigwagging is still good—ask any Boy Scout—but the modern Signal Corps goes in for more scientific equipment—walkie-talkies, for example, and precision radios that stand up under the most exacting conditions.

U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Disagrees With N.L.R.B. About Employer's Right to Call Work Time Meeting

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 29—Several weeks ago in these dispatches reference was made to the attempt of the National Labor Relations Board in the Clark brothers case to sustain an "unfair labor practice" charge under the Wagner Act when an employer summoned his employes to a meeting during working hours to discuss union questions. The board claimed this was the exercise of "superior economic power" because the employes had to listen.

Now the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in a different case but one in which the facts are virtually identical with those in the Clark case, says that the employer is protected by the free speech clause of the constitution. The decision is so clear-cut as to remove any substantial doubt about the fact that the constitution still supersedes the Wagner Act, though it is plausible to assume that the matter will nevertheless be carried by the board to the Supreme Court of the United States for final decision if that court chooses to hear the matter. The circuit court also said incidentally that refusal to bargain on the "closed shop" was not unlawful.

"It is argued that compulsory attendance at the meetings," says the Eighth Circuit Court, "was a species of coercion. The employes attended in groups and certainly employers have the right to meet their employes for discussion and presentation of matters of policy of mutual interest.

"In the instant case the employes were paid for the time spent at the meetings. The first amended is concerned with the freedom of thought and expression of the speaker or writer, not with the conditions under which the auditor or listener receives the message. One need not, as a condition precedent to his right of free speech under the first amendment, secure permission of his auditor. The first amendment does not purport to protect the right of privacy, nor does it require that the audience shall have volunteered to listen...

"In asking its employes to attend a meeting on company time, at which affairs of mutual interest to respondent (employer) and the employes were to be discussed, respondent was employing a convenient means of communicating with its employes. The employes were paid for attending and were not inconvenienced in the least. If they were influenced against their will by the arguments presented, this was a legitimate consequence of free speech and presumably one of its purposes. Free speech is not to be limited to ineffective speech... The occasion on which the employer elects to utter his thoughts is not to be considered as an element of coercion. He is as free to speak at one time as another. The first amendment does not prohibit the communication of ideas but rather guarantees that right...

"If the speaker must hesitate before uttering his thoughts, if he must weigh and nicely balance every word so as to determine whether what he is about to say is permitted or forbidden, the guaranty tendered by the constitution is little more than theoretical. He is 'wholly at the mercy of the varied understanding of his hearers and consequently of whatever inference may be drawn as to his intent and meaning. Such a distinction offers no security for free discussion' (quoted from opinion of Supreme Court of the U. S. in case called Thomas versus Collins). If subtleties may be invoked as the basis for an inference that non-coercive remarks may have had an 'altered import' in the minds of the listeners, any employer would be subjected not only to the 'varied understanding of his hearers,' but also subjected to the chance of what the board might infer. We think such a doctrine would take away all 'security for free discussion.'"

Even more important in the same opinion from the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals is the comment on the charge that when the employer in the case stated to his employes his opposition to the "closed shop," this was notice that the employer would refuse to bargain collectively with the designated bargaining agent. The court says:

"The statute (the Wagner law) merely authorizes but does not purport to compel the employer to recognize the closed shop. The most that can be said is that bargaining for a closed shop or for a signed agreement with the employer is a frequent subject of negotiation between employer and employes. There is no indication that there would be a refusal to negotiate, but on the contrary the right of organization and of collective bargaining by the employes is definitely and expressly recognized in Barr's (the employer's) remarks. . . . Reference to a policy opposed to the closed shop was not, we think, improper and it has the implied approval of other courts."

The sad part of all this is that, no matter what the courts say, there is a disposition to employ technically to keep litigation going against employers so that, under Wagner Act procedures, there is no way the employer can be assured of his rights of free speech guaranteed by the constitution except by contant presence in the courts.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The ceremony of breaking ground for the new Central Post Office on Broadway, was held Monday afternoon, October 31, 1904, with appropriate exercises, under the auspices of the Board of Trade.

The members of the Board of Trade met at the city hall, and marched in a body to the site. The marchers were headed by Muller's Band.

Major James H. Everett, president of the board, presided at the ceremonies, and among the speakers were Mayor Morris Block and Congressman George J. Smith.

The original committee of the Board of Trade who had urged the building of a post office in Kingston consisted of Major Everett, Congressman Smith and John H. Gregory. This committee had been named to do all in its power to bring about the construction of the new building.

The three members of the committee were awarded the honor of turning the first spadeful of ground for the new building, using a silver spade for the purpose.

Who now has that silver spade is unknown to me, but it is an interesting relic of a historic occasion.

Turning from post office to football old Ulster Academy in 1904 had a fast football team, and on November 5, of that year, played a scoreless tie with Poughkeepsie High School.

Ulster's lineup for the game included Kimber, McNelis, Ormerod, Eastman, Fitzgerald, Daley, Scharschu, Rowland, Thompson, Tongue, Clarke and Vogt.

The local Y.M.C.A. also had a speedy basketball team in 1904. It opened its season on November 8, of that year, by defeating the Newburgh "Y" by a score of 30 to 14.

The Kingston players were Measter, Halstein, Boyd, Whitbeck and Chappell.

"Pete" Measter and Ray Whitbeck, although no longer active in basketball, have never lost their interest in the sport. Measter is a member of the staff of the Forst Packing Co., on Abeel street, and Whitbeck is with the Kingston Coal Co., on Thomas street.

The Industrial Home on East Chester street was formally opened on Tuesday, September 27, 1904, with brief addresses by Reuben Bernard, chairman of the board of trustees, and Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth, who for years was active in the affairs of the institution.

The matron in charge of the new building that year was Mrs. S. E. Haskell.

The 88th anniversary of the Ulster County Bible Society and the 43rd annual convention and institute of the Ulster County Sunday School Association, were held jointly on October 18, 1904, in the Wurts Street Baptist Church.

The Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, pastor of the Baptist Church was elected president of the Bible Society. The other officers included Bernard McBride, D. B. Hendricks and Nathan Van Wagenen, vice presidents; William Smith, secretary, and William G. Van Etten, treasurer.

The Sunday School Association elected L. L. Osterhoudt president; D. B. Hendricks, H. N. Wilcox and Wilbur Hill, vice presidents; William Smith, secretary, and C. L. Shufeldt, treasurer.

Abram Wood died in his home on Broadway on November 15, 1904, aged 80 years. For a number of years he conducted a soda water bottling establishment on Broadway, at East Chester street. The business is now being conducted by his grandson, Theodore Wood.

The old building on Broadway was torn down some years ago and the site is now occupied by Cy's Diner. The bottling business is now carried on at the rear of the lot on Jansen avenue.

Mr. Wood was one of the many men from this area who in 1849, at the outbreak of the gold fever, went to California, where he remained for some time before returning to Kingston.

New Methods Will Help Paper Supply

That hardwood trees will be the solution of the problem of the paper industry in obtaining an adequate supply of raw material in New York state is the opinion of Professor Clarence E. Libby, head of the Department of Pulp and Paper Manufacture, New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Professor Libby, who has been directing extensive research in the college laboratories on this problem, further stated that some of the hardwood pulps which his research staff have developed are not only satisfactory substitutes for spruce pulp but possess properties which actually improve the quality of certain specialty papers.

These new developments in hardwood pulping and the improved pulp thus secured is the result of months of intensive research at the college. The new developments guarantee that hardwood pulps with a widely increasing range of usefulness, will soon become available to the paper industry in the northeastern states.

The problem of pulp supply from hardwoods in the northwest, and particularly in New York state, is of prime importance to the paper industry because hardwoods grow in great profusion in this section of the United States, while spruce, from which many kinds of paper is produced, has become very scarce. The scarcity has made the northeast a large importer of pulpwood and paper pulp.

Drama Study Group Hears Ballet Master

The Drama Study group of the Y.W.C.A. Women's Club held its first meeting Thursday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The speaker was Alexis Kosloff, ballet master.

The artist spoke of the great arts as one chain, each linking itself into the other such as painting, fencing, drama, music, dancing and pantomine. "For one to be an artist, one must first love these arts as well as live them," he said.

The group consisted of 15 members of the club. Membership is still open for this study group. The next meeting will be held at the Governor Clinton the Monday after Thanksgiving. The topic will be "Conquering Stage Fright." Both Mr. and Mrs. Kosloff will conduct a study during the coming meetings.

Pearl Pysher, Cementon, Wed to F. W. Brockway In West Camp Church

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Pearl Luella Pysher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Franklin Pysher, Cementon, to Fred W. Brockway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Brockway, 72 West Bridge street, Catskill. The wedding took place Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp with the Rev. LaRoy S. Deitrich officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Estella Potts was organist. Mrs. Herman Knaust sang, "I Love You Truly," "O, Promise Me" and "O, Perfect Love." Chrysanthemums and dahlias were used in the decorations with white chrysanthemums on the altar.

Mr. Pysher gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was designed with white satin bodice, off shoulder effect, long pointed sleeves and white marquisette skirt trimmed with white satin rosettes. Her fingertip veil of imported Swiss illusion was fastened to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried white roses.

Miss Emma Wager of Asbury, as maid of honor wore a blue chiffon gown with matching Juliet cap and veil. She carried yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Thelma Pysher, sister of the bride, and Miss Anita Potts of Cementon as bridesmaids wore pink brocade and net gowns with matching Juliet caps and carried bronze, red and yellow chrysanthemums.

Raymond L. Stinard, Baldwinsville, was best man. Ushers were Charles W. Pysher, brother of the bride, and Albert Stewart, both of Cementon.

A reception was held at St. Paul's Parish Hall for 75 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Brockway left for a wedding trip to Easton, Pa. For traveling the bride chose a pink woolen suit with nail head trimming, brown accessories and corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Brockway is a graduate of Catskill High School. Mr. Brockway served in the army and was overseas in Europe for 19 months.

Rebekah Lodges Honor State President

Highland, Oct. 29—The banquet for Mrs. Lucy B. Munger, Stockton, state assembly president, Rebekah Lodges, was attended by 90 members at Olive Bridge Thursday night. Afterward 125 attended the meeting.

Mrs. Munger was accompanied by Mrs. Florence Gippert, past assembly musician; Lucille Owens, past assembly chaplain, Utica; Matilda Hahn and staff, Ulster District 1; Harlow McLean, Olive Bridge; Arthur Trowbridge, past grand guardian; Mrs. Alvina Gruner, secretary of state secretary association.

Mrs. Viva Davis, district deputy president of district 2, presided at the meeting. President Munger spoke on her project for the year and requested cooperation of every member for the endowment fund of the various homes in the state. Collections taken at the visitations go to the hospital fund of the homes. Presentation of gifts were in charge of the members and staff of Olive Rebekah Lodge. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Thompson. Colonial Rebekah Lodge took part in the entertainment by featuring each lodge in both districts by a song contest and Minnetonka Lodge, Tillson, was honored for their selection. Vineyard Lodge, Highland, gave a skit, "Clothes Line Gossip."

Royal Couple Chosen At Harvest Moon Dance

Miss Rita Stout was chosen queen and Ronald Lord, king at the annual Tri-Hi Harvest Moon Dance at the Y.W.C.A. Saturday evening. The royal couple were chosen from numbers selected by Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw. The queen was presented with a crown and the king with a scepter and they led the "Shine On Harvest Moon Dance."

Seventy-five couples attended the annual affair. Music was provided by Francis Danahy's "Gentlemen of Swing." A large harvest moon in one corner of the hall lighted the room for dancing. In the center of the floor was a hay mow arrangement and black and orange streamers were used on the walls. The refreshment table centerpiece was a large pumpkin.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm, and Miss Audria Stinger.

Vincent Sheean Will Speak Under Auspices Of College Women's Club

Kingstonians interested in keeping abreast of public affairs will have the opportunity of hearing Vincent Sheean, noted author, radio commentator and lecturer. Mr. Sheean will be presented at the Kingston High School Auditorium, Monday evening, November 18, under the auspices of the Kingston College Women's Club.

Mr. Sheean will discuss "Personal Opinions" when he addresses his Kingston audience. His talk will be one of wide interest, since the speaker is in a position to present important first hand information on many of the important topics of the day.

The speaker began his career as reporter for Chicago and New York papers and also served as foreign correspondent in Paris. Since 1925 he had served as correspondent on special missions. These assignments took him to China in 1927, Palestine in 1929, and to Spain in 1938. In the recent war he covered the English front for the Saturday Evening Post and later went to the Far East for articles on war conditions in the Pacific. In 1942 he became a captain in the Army Air Corps.

To the average American Mr. Sheean is best known as the author of "Personal History" and "Not Peace But the Sword." A third in this series of autobiographical accounts by foreign correspondents, "This House Against This House" which discusses the problem of peace and cooperation among the Allies was published earlier this year.

Tickets for the lecture may be secured from any member of the Kingston College Women's Club.

Sour Grapes!

I have no meat, I have no lard,
No sugar for fruit juice;
O, well, for quite some time of late
I've been planning to reduce.—
Mrs. John Springer

Mother (after relating pathetic story)—Now, Junior, wouldn't you like to give your bicycle to that poor little boy you saw today who hasn't any father?

Junior (nonchalantly) — Say, couldn't we give him Father instead?

"A man who thinks he is educated because he has read a book is like a man who thinks he is rich because he has money in the bank."—From Lonely Is Lee, by Robert Gibbings.

"These words," comments Frank Sullivan in PM, "ought to be printed large and clear and hung in a conspicious place in every classroom in the country, especially in schools of business administration, to point the difference between wisdom and learning. Also they should be writ large around the ceiling of every bank."

Doctor—I can do nothing for your complaint. It is hereditary.

Patient—Then send the bill to my father.

If you have good neighbors there is only one answer. You live in a good town.

Teacher—Junior, what is a peninsular?

Junior—A rubber neck.

Teacher—No. It's a neck running out to sea.

Junior—That's a rubber neck, isn't it?

Lord Baden-Powell, founder and World Chief Boy Scout, in his last message to International Scouting before his death in 1941 said: "War is a man-made infliction upon himself, bringing nothing but misery in its train. It is up to man to devise the remedy, and to restore to himself the blessings of peace with its prosperity and happiness for all."

Gentleman (in bank)—Did anybody drop a roll of bills with a rubber band around them?

Several Voices (in bank lobby)—Yes, I did.

Gentleman (calmly)—Well, I just picked up the rubber band.

Mother—Now, Junior, why don't you go and play with your little friends?

Junior—I have only one little friend, and I hate him.

Farmer (who owned the pond, yelling to fisherman)—Say! Don't you see that sign: "No Fishing Here?"

Disgusted Fisherman—I sure do. The fellow who printed that sign knew what he was talking about.

Grit says: A long face is certain to shorten your list of friends."

Exception to the Rule

It takes two to make an argument
Within this vale of strife;
The one exception to this rule

Isle Finds the Wheel

Over the green turf and wild flowers of lonely, roadless Eriskay Island, Outer Hebrides, off Scotland's coast, a motor truck bounced its way down to the tiny harbor—the first wheeled vehicle ever on Eriskay—Glasgow reports. Not even a cart or a wheelbarrow ever was seen on the barren isle where some 400 people scratch out a living by fishing. Recently, a contracting firm was engaged to build a canteen for the school. To move gravel and cement up the steep slopes they shipped in a truck.

Home-Made Soap Liked

South Africa's soap shortage provoked an inventive Harrismith man, J. Van Tonder, into producing cold water soap from a mixture of coal-ash, drippings and soda. Sold at ceiling prices it gives him a 300 per cent profit. He hopes to sell his recipe to a soap manufacturer.

Oregon Committee Girds Once Again To Rule Halloween

By ANN REED BURNS

Portland, Ore., Oct. 29 (AP)—The Anti-Halloween Committee has just wound up a bigger and better campaign to keep garbage cans out of the parlor and trucks off people's front lawns.

Anti-Halloween really isn't its name. Actually the committee, which represents the Y.M.C.A., city bureau of parks, Parent-Teachers, churches, police and public schools, likes Halloween—within limits. And for five years it's had increasing success at making those limits exclude setting fire to porches and tearing down garage doors.

What the committee does is to sponsor parties, hundreds and hundreds of parties, that keep the kids so busy they haven't time to run about punching holes in gas tanks.

Not that the police don't have to put on an extra 100 men October 31. Last year, for instance, there were soaped windows, deflated [illegible], 12 false alarms, a flooded living room, and somebody tied up a slot machine to a traffic signal on a main boulevard.

But compared to what it used to be—

"Why I remember when driving home after Halloween was like covering an obstacle course," said Police Inspector James Fleming. "The streets were filled with barrels and crates and boxes. The kids would grease street car rails, block streets, break windows—we used to have real destruction. But we've had almost no serious damage since these parties started."

Holds 'Parents' Clinics'

About 10 days before Halloween the civic committee holds "parents' clinics," where the head of city recreation outlines ways of putting on successful parties. The Y.M.C.A. distributes handbooks of Haloween games through the city. Principals send letters to all grade school parents suggesting Halloween parties.

Parties, with grim experience at scrubbing off splashed paint and squashed tomatoes, are cooperative. Last year Portland had 2,697 parties attended by 24,959 children.

The emphasis is on strictly neighborhood affairs. "We try not to encourage big parties," explained Paul S. Campbell, assistant general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "When a mob of children are all going to one place, it's too easy for them to be tempted to tip over a few cars on their way."

The idea was originally cooked up by Henry Richter, executive secretary of the southeast Portland Y.M.C.A., and slowly spread throughout the city.

If hoodlumism keeps declining at the same pace, experts say, in another decade Halloween will be just an ordinary night.

KRIPPLEBUSH

Kripplebush, Oct. 29—The annual Halloween party will be held in the hall on Thursday at 8 p. m. Prizes will be given for the prettiest and funniest costumes, and refreshments will be free for the children. Adults may obtain them for a small fee. There will be various games. The public is invited to join the costume parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiana and family and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller and son with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin H. Barley of Ellenville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells and family of Ulster Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Merrihew and John Gordon of Kingston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelder and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Redelburger and daughter Louise and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lyons visited the game farm in Catskill on Thursday.

Moscow Changes Music

Just to be different, the Russians now have changed the conventional musical octave, inventing an instrument, rather like a large accordion, which operates on a 17-tone scale. This, Moscow musicians say, will give better opportunities for expression to Soviet musicians. Western listeners who have heard the instrument say it makes a pleasant sound but hardly seems to make music, at least until one has listened for many months to the subtle tones so that the ear becomes attuned to them.

'Eat Breakfast' Plea

Spaniards should eat more breakfast in order that the nation may be strong, scientists in Madrid are saying. "Those peoples, like ourselves, who eat a hearty meal late at night and drink a cup of coffee for breakfast are liable to many illnesses and become prematurely old," says one. "Proof is that in the Madrid building trade almost all serious accidents to workers occur during the morning. The man who has had nothing to eat for 10 or 12 hours becomes faint."

New Officers Are Nominated Here By Postal Group

At the regular meeting of the Ulster County Postmasters Association last week in the Kingston central post office, Colonel William Kraft, local postmaster, recently discharged from service was guest speaker, and nomination of officers was made for the November election.

The nomination committee presented this slate for election: Chauncey McLean of Wallkill, president; Nathan P. Williams of Highland, first vice-president; Robert J. Henry of Port Ewen, second vice-president; Jay Zimmerman of New Paltz, treasurer; Elsa D. Hart of High Falls, secretary.

Members of the nominating committee are Oscar Schlenker of West Camp, chairman; Charles Riccardi, Glasco and Howard Bell, Woodstock.

Postmaster Kraft's talk was about his experience in the Chemical Warfare Department over a period of four and a half years. He remarked that he was happy to be a civilian again, serving the people instead of devising means to destroy human life.

When Postmaster Martin of Saugerties, presiding president, called for reports, Postmaster Miller said that Ulster county membership had reached 73, a figure that nears 100 per cent. Postmaster Doyle, county director, reported 44 paid members of the National Association.

Postmaster Elsa D. Hart of High Falls was congratulated on her election at the Syracuse convention as a state director for two years.

Many postal matters were discussed during a question period, and after the business session refreshments were enjoyed. Those on the social committee were Postmasters Lounsbery of Stone Ridge and Pietrobelli of Cottekill.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Gertrude L. Miller, Accord; Mrs. Pearl A. Cole and Mrs. Warren Cole, Branch; Mrs. Ida Pietrobelli, Cottekill; Mrs. Viola Feldman, Eddyville; Mrs. Alice Jones, Esopus; Mrs. Elsa D. Hart, High Falls; Robert A. Doyle, Kerhonkson; William Kraft, Kingston; J. Sanford Cross, Kyserike; Miss Hazel Markle, Minnewaska; Jay Zimmerman, New Paltz; George Stanton, Pine Bush; Miss Mae J. Pessenar, Pine Hill, Robert J. Henry, Port Ewen, John A. Martin, Saugerties; Mrs. Betsy Vonder Osten, Shokan; Miss Sarah C. Lounsbery, Stone Ridge; George E. McEvoy, Tillson; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Jahn and Mrs. C. House Schoonmaker, Ulster Park; Oscar L. Schlenker, West Camp.

Schrader-O'Neill Wedding Took Place Sunday Afternoon

Miss Eileen B. O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. O'Neill, 202 Third avenue, and Andrew Schrader, son of Mrs. Andrew Schrader, 126 Ten Broeck avenue, and the late Andrew Schrader, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the Immaculate Conception Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Sieczek. The altars were decorated with bronze and white chrysanthemums and baskets of fall leaves and flowers.

Miss Theresa Gehringer was the organist. Mrs. Irma Sachar, soloist, sang "Panis Angelicus," "The Lord's Prayer" and the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria."

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a white brocaded satin gown with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, full skirt en train, long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil was caught by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white satin prayer book with white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls given to her by the bridegroom.

Miss Ann Sudowski, cousin of the bride, from Poughkeepsie, was maid of honor. She wore a blue brocaded satin gown like the bride's. The bridesmaids were the Misses Dolores DeMicco, cousin of the bride, who wore yellow and Betty Heaney who wore pink. All wore Anne Queen of Scots bonnets and carried colonial bouquets of roses and pompons.

Harold Bowers was best man. Ushers were Lawrence R. Scanlon, cousin of the bride, Louie Charmello, Donald Tucker and Thomas Hickey.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the White Eagle Hall for 300 guests. Andy Becker and his orchestra from New Jersey provided music. Out-of-town guests were from Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maine and Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrader left for a motor trip through upstate New York and Canada. For traveling, the bride wore a grey gabardine suit, black topper and black accessories with an orchid corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home at 202 Third avenue.

The bride and bridegroom both attended Kingston High School. Mrs. Schrader is employed with the Kingston Knitting Mills. Mr. Schrader, a veteran of World War II, served three years in the navy aboard the U.S.S. Hornet and participated in 11 major battles in the Pacific. He received the presidential unit citation. He is employed by Leo Moser, plumbing and heating contractor.

Bridal Shower Given Evelyn Kellerman

A surprise bridal shower was given Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Evelyn Kellerman, daughter of Mrs. Patrick J. Jordan, 316 Hasbrouck avenue at the Immaculate Conception School Hall. Miss Kellerman will be married to William D. Doyle of Port Ewen November 10 at the Immaculate Conception Church. Hostesses at the shower were Mrs. Kazimir Hudela, Miss Mary Szymanski and Miss Helen Ryndak. The guest of honor's chair and shower umbrella were decorated in pink and white.

Those attending were the Mmes. Patrick J. ## Furs and Hats Modeled at Fall Fashion Showing

Fur pieces and fur coats were among the outstanding displays at the Fall Fashion Showing Monday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The show was presented by Montgomery Ward and Company in cooperation with the Y.W.C.A. Junior Married Women's Club who acted as models. Top photo from left pictures Mrs. John F. Schomer in sable dyed muskrat with wide cuffed sleeves; Mrs. Ronald B. Herrick in the luxurious sable dyed let-out muskrat coat; Mrs. Edmund D. Holland wearing a short length black seal coat; Mrs. Arnold Johnson in a rich toned brown beaver coat; and Mrs. John Connors in the Persian Lamb coat featuring push-up sleeves, and fullness in the back.

Variety, Gay Colors and Quality Shown in Fall Fashion Display by Local Montgomery Ward Store

Variety in all types of costumes from sportswear to bedtime robes and negligees was one of the features of the Fall Fashion Showing presented by Montgomery Ward and Company Monday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The show was sponsored by the Junior Married Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A. and more than 250 attended.

Suits and fur coats as well as garments designed for cold weather sports and warmth were important parts of the show. Colors were gay in electric blue, kelly green, fuchsia, white birch, moss and forest green as well as the basic browns and blacks. Quality points in material and styling for the inexpensive costumes as well as those in the higher price field were demonstrated.

Miss Florence Luckett, fashion supervisor of the Montgomery Ward New York store, was narrator and the models were members of the club.

The first part of the show was devoted to sports and informal wear. Skirts were shown in some of the newest plaids and colorful checks worn with slip-on and cardigan sweaters or some of the newer jackets made either fitted or loose with push-up sleeves. One ensemble included a forest green and red checked shirt with forest green sweater, beige jacket. Later this was topped by a forest green fleece coat and the model wore stadium boots. Pedal pushers were modeled in black and white check with bright plaid shirt and red corduroy jacket. Slacks were modeled with different style jackets and blouses and in suit ensembles. Ski suits were dominated by the colorful figure sweaters.

Several raincoats and accessories were shown with plaid and check umbrellas.

Tea Time

Black is still basic for tea time fashions. A black transparent velvet dress designed in strict simplicity was modeled with touches of two gold clips and a new hat topped with silk feather flowers. A black crepe was made with front drape and cascade of ruffles down the entire length of the side front. This dress was trimmed with jet sequins as were many of the afternoon dresses. Another featured a front bodice of sequins. Color was emphasized in an aqua two piece tunic dress and a melon dress made with the large push-up sleeves, deep armhole, keyhole neck [illegible] and exaggerated belt, popular this season. A brown rayon crepe featured a short front peplum, lattice work neckline and belt studded with glitter. Most of the dresses had short sleeves and long mitts completed the costumes.

A black classic gabardine suit was worn with a fuchsia topper and a soft moss green twill suit with [illegible] detail was worn with a pink scarf. A tunic style suit was made in brown and white diamond shape check with diamond inserts of plain brown wool in the tunic.

Hats

Mrs. Louise Wallace of the staff in the local store presented the latest styles in hats showing several for the up-hair do; the current season's Empress Eugenie with plume which comes in a variety of colors; a fur felt hat with widow's peak front and a half hat of pink feathers. For the long bob Mrs. Wallace modeled several styles of off-the-face, close-fitting hats many trimmed with gold sequins. She also modeled two of the dress coats, one in electric blue trimmed with silver blue muskrat and the other in bright fuchsia trimmed with sable dyed squirrel.

Many of the coats were made with the flange shoulder line. An interesting sports coat was the boy coat in dove grey suede cloth with warm zipper lining.

Furs

The furs were outstanding. Miss Beatrice Rizzi, queen of the V.F.W. Ball modeled a silver fox brief coat one of the most glamorous, as was a sheared beaver coat. Push-up sleeves were used in almost all of the coats enabling the wearer to show to advantage any long gloves and bracelets. Persian paw in black and gray were modeled, as well as, the luxurious Persian lamb dressmaker coat. Natural silver muskrat demonstrated the lighter tone in furs which Miss Luckett predicted would become popular. Others were in the deep furred let-out sable dyed muskrat. Gray kidskin and mouton lamb coats were also modeled.

Quilted, chenille and flannel robes were shown in several styles. One negligee in rayon crepe with three color combinations might be used for a hostess gown as well. Harmonizing slippers were worn with the gowns.

During intermission refreshments were served. Music for the entire show was furnished by Johnny Knapp and his orchestra. The interior arrangement was made by Mrs. Frederick Scott and Mrs. Claude Needes. Lights were furnished through the courtesy of Henry Eltinge. Floral arrangements were by Kingston House of Flowers, Burgevin and Brown and Son. Costume jewelry was furnished through the courtesy of G. A. Schneider.

Models from the club included Mmes. John Kelly, Carleton Plumb, Albert Roosa, Charles Goble, Jr., Harold Davis, Kelsey Graham, Morgan Ryan, Darwin Hinsdale, Stanton Warren, Charles Mills, Donald Davis, Edward Minasian, Ronald Herrick, George Schneider, Edmund Holland, George Shivery, Arnold Johnson, William Ten Eyck, Walter Hubbard, Anthony Messina, Kenneth Groat, John Schomer, Daniel Van Wagenen, Roger Schwartz and Myron Hoppe.

Arrangements for the show were made in cooperation with the company by Mrs. Robert W. Brown, Mrs. Louis Steketee, Mrs. George Shivery and Mrs. Roger Schwartz.

Clinton Avenue Church Members to Nominate Good Neighbor for Show

All members of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church are asked to write Good Neighbor letters during the week to nominate a good neighbor for the Tom Breneman Breakfast in Hollywood Show Tuesday evening, November 5.

The show is being sponsored by the Senior Choir and one of the features is announcing the "good neighbor" as selected by the people of the church. A letter telling why the person should be chosen may be sent to any member of the choir or Mrs. James Gaddis, president of the choir, 121 Green street. All entries should be in by Sunday.

Those who will participate in the show are Fred Spalt as Tom Breneman; John Bach, the announcer; Warren Smith, Uncle Corny; and Donald Weeks as Bobby.

Elsie Felton Given Surprise Bridal Shower

Miss Elsie Felton was the guest of honor at a surprise luncheon and bridal shower at the home of her cousin, Miss Eleanor Felton, Ruby, Saturday afternoon. Miss Felton opened her gifts seated beneath a paper umbrella, from which hung various colored streamers.

Those attending were the Misses Dorothy Adams, JoAnn Young, Josephine Singler, and Eleanor Felton, Mmes. William Hulsair, Lester Felton and Harold Felton.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Eva Hyser of Tannersville is spending a week with her friend, Mrs. E. J. Ritch, 21 Lafayette avenue.

PAYING BACK DEBT

I can hardly imagine that any girl would be so self-conscious about a perfectly commonplace question of payment, but in case there are others, I am printing this letter from a man: "The other night I was driving with a girl. We struck a piece of road that was full of broken glass. A second blowout made it necessary to buy a new tube. When I went to pay, I realized I had left my money in my other trousers, so I asked the girl to lend me enough money to pay the garage bill. She did.

"The next day I went to see her and immediately tried to pay her back. I didn't sit and count it out, but had it all ready. As I held it out, I said, 'Thank you for lending this to me.' She refused to take it. Finally she said she would leave it to you. Mrs. Post, I'd feel a lot more comfortable if she'd take the money—and wouldn't it be right for her to take it back?"

Of course she should take it back! Whenever money is borrowed, the borrower should pay back what he owes and the person who lends it should accept without demur. Otherwise, it makes an embarrassing situation. In fact, should it ever happen again, you couldn't let her help! You would have to pledge your watch or something like that until you could return and pay your bill.

Definitely Not!

Dear Mrs. Post: When one sends a wedding invitation to an unmarried girl, does that not imply that she may bring an escort? I am about to send such invitations and since I will have to give the club a definite number of reservations, would like to know this soon.

Answer: No one has a right to take a man friend any more than a girl friend to any party of any sort without asking the hostess for a special invitation.

Homemaking Teachers Of 15 Counties to Meet

The first meeting of the year of the Eastern District Home Economics Association will be held November 2 at 10:30 a. m. in the central school building at East Greenbush.

Dr. Floyd E. Hendrickson, professor of visual education, State Teachers' College, Albany, will be the speaker. Homemaking teachers from the 15 counties in the district, which includes Ulster county, will attend the conference. After the noon lunch the group will tour the school building, which is one of the largest in the state.

Ruzzo to Get Church

County Judge John M. Cashin has made an order approving the sale of the former Rondout Presbyterian Church property at Wurts and Abeel street to Sisto Ruzzo for $5,000. The order was filed in the county clerk's office last Friday. The Presbyterian congregation now worships in the former Wurts Street Baptist Church which it purchased some time ago.

Twentieth Century Club Holds Masquerade Halloween Party

Twentieth Century Club members in keeping with the season held a Halloween party in place of a study meeting Monday. The party took place at the home of Mrs. Maynard Mizel, 221 Albany avenue Monday evening with members attending in masquerade costumes.

Among the interesting ensembles were Mrs. Mizel as a Russian cossack; Mrs. George Whitford, Little Bo-Beep; Mrs. Richard H. D. Boerker, Lady from Japan; and Mrs. C. B. Dickinson, Turkish woman. Awards were made for guessing who the masked members were and also for the Halloween stunts and games. Refreshments were served.

During the short business meeting, Mrs. DeWitt Wells was chosen to attend the federation meeting in Albany next month. Other members are planning to attend for a day.

The evening was planned by members of the program committee: Mrs. Mizel, Mrs. Boerker, co-chairman; Mrs. Adam Porter, Mrs. S. M. Taylor and Mrs. G. N. Wood.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. P. Baylor, 270 Clinton avenue. A round table discussion on the development of the United Nations' Charter will be held. Each member is asked to bring a clipping on some phase of the United Nations' discussion in New York.

Birthday Party

A birthday party was held in honor of Mrs. Joseph C. Gallagher, October 21, at her home 163 Fairview avenue. Guests included the Mmes. Oliver Keator, William Van Kleeck, Effie Christiana, Janet Rudolph, Wesley Cramer, Alton Connors, Edward Whittaker, Burton Van Kleeck, Sam Astalos, Jr., Herbert Bedell, George Sheldon, Michael Hart, Harold Grumme, Nicholas Brophy, Walton Cottrell, and the Misses Marie Dietz, Marion Rudolph and Joan Van Kleeck.

Police Chief Asks Children, Youths Keep Sane Halloween

Halloween will be celebrated in Kingston on Thursday evening and today Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss issued an appeal to the children and youth of the city to refrain from acts of malicious mischief.

The police chief's appeal follows:

Again the one night of the year, which in the past has proven to be one of night-mare to your Police Department and to the property owners of the city is approaching—Halloween.

I, hereby appeal to the youth of Kingston, to please refrain from doing those wanton and malicious acts on this night which in the past have proven to be costly, unsafe and unsightly. I, specifically request that you refrain from the soaping of windows, the stealing af gates, upsetting garbage and ash cans, starting of curb fires, hiding and playing in leaves along the curbs. In fact, any act that you would not think of doing on any other night of the year.

It is not my desire to deprive you of good clean fun. Dress up if you will. Masquerade and parade to your hearts content. Call at the homes of neighbors and friends. Meet with the other youth of our city at either end of Broadway, and parade to the music of good bands to the Municipal Auditorium, which our Mayor Edelmuth has so graciously thrown open and placed at your disposal for the evening.

Join in the supervised festivities at said place. You are assured a good time by your Recreation Department, who under the leadership of Mr. Harry Edson, have made great plans for your evening's entertainment. When the evening's frolic is over Mayor Edelmuth, Mr. Edson and myself request that you go straight to your homes, happy in the knowledge of an enjoyable evening well spent, without injury to yourselves or damage to the property of others.

East Strand Man Overcome by Gas

Joseph Bravo in Hospital, Left Gas on by Mistake

Joseph Bravo, 59, of 34 East Strand, was overcome by illuminating gas in his home, and was removed to the Kingston Hospital in the Conner ambulance shortly after 6 o'clock this morning, according to a report filed by Officer Thomas McGrane with the police department.

At the hospital Bravo was reported resting as comfortably as could be expected. He is under the care of Dr. B. J. Dutto.

According to Officer McGrane's report Bravo informed him that he placed the coffee pot on the gas range in the kitchen to prepare coffee, and then had gone to his bedroom, adjoining the kitchen and fallen asleep.

When the coffee pot boiled over it extinguished the flame, and the gas continued to seep through the rooms.

While Bravo was quite ill from the effects of the gas it was not necessary to use the inhalator of the fire department, Officer McGrane reported.

Hindus, Moslems Continue Strife In Calcutta City

Calcutta, Oct. 29 (AP)—Stabbing, burning and looting marked continued Hindu-Moslem strife here today as Mohandas K. Gandhi, Hindu spiritual leader, neared the city on his way to troubled East Bengal.

Congress Party officials arranging for Gandhi's stay kept secret the place where he will detrain upon his arrival from New Delhi. The visit is his first to Bengal Province since he came last year for a meeting of the Congress Party Working Committee.

Bows and arrows were among the weapons mobs used in the latest communal violence in Calcutta. In the disturbed Noakhali and Tippera districts of East Bengal where Gandhi is going, however, reports indicated that refugees were returning home slowly under military and police protection and were being given food, clothing and medical supplies, some flown in.

Boy, 13, Still Has His Long, Golden Tresses

Washington, Oct. 29 (AP)—Jimmy Garvin had a haircut when he was two years old. He wasn't pleased. At that age, who is?

But that was 11 years ago and Jimmy hasn't had a haircut since.

Naturally, his golden locks are getting a little long—a coupe of feet long. They curl around his shoulders in natural waves.

You never hear it mentioned around the seventh grade at Langley Junior High School, however. Jimmy is handy with his dukes.

Mrs. Margaret Garvin, his mother, just shrugs when the subject comes up.

"We're all individualists in this family," says she.

Artie Shaw Marries 'Forever Amber' Author

Hollywood, Oct. 29 (AP)—Artie Shaw, the clarinet man who aspires to be a movie producer, was honeymooning today with Kathleen Winsor, who hit the jackpot in her first literary try with "Forever Amber."

Their surprise marriage yesterday in Juarez, Mexico, across the border from El Paso, Tex., caught Hollywood napping. Nobody even seemed to have known they were romancing. The film colony was unaware that Kathleen had obtained a divorce from Bob Herwig, former University of California football star and marine captain hero.

It was the fifth marriage for Artie, who at one time was regarded as the nation's top hot clarinet player.

No Price Control on Ice

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—O.P.A. skidded ice out from under price control today. Declaring that the supply is ample to meet all demands, the agency said its action would apply to both natural and manufactured ice, as well as icing services. The industry does an estimated $260,000,000 worth of business a year. Meanwhile, O.P.A. issued a 127-page directory listing 3,500 commodity groups decontrolled up to October 15. The price of the directory for anyone interested was put at $3 a copy by the Government Printing Office, with a promise that supplements would be issue to keep up with the accelerated decontrol program ordered by President Truman.

How United States Coast Guard Flies to the Rescue

By MARK BARRON
AP Newsfeatures

New York, Oct. 29—Newspaper headlines succinctly told the story: "Air Rescue Ends; Last Ten Survivors Flown to Gander; Helicopter and PBY's Complete Transfer of Those Injured in Belgian Plane Crash."

Twenty-seven people died in the crash, but 17 others were brought out of the almost impenetrable Newfoundland forest—alive because the United States Coast Guard Search and Rescue plan had been implemented far in advance to meet the emergencies of man's never ceasing battle against disaster on the sea and in the air.

Blanketing the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico coasts and reaching far out into the Atlantic, the U. S. Coast Guard maintains and operates a network of radio stations, scouting planes and rescue ships that save hundreds of lives and thousands of dollars worth of property every month from the perils of sea and storm.

1,178 Saved in Month

A single month's report of the U. S. Coast Guard Eastern Area, which follows the coast from Greenland to the Rio Grande, gives a graphic picture of the extent of the Coast Guard's operations, the amount of lives and property they save.

A typical month is July, 1946, a month in which the Coast Guard rescued 1,178 people, recovered 14 bodies, and rendered assistance to 538 ships and 109 aircraft.

"We were formerly known as the 'Air Sea Rescue' division," says Rear Adm. Ed H. "Iceberg" Smith, commanding officer of the Eastern Area Coast Guard. "But we changed the name to 'Search and Rescue' because the phrase, 'Air Sea Rescue,' would not translate properly into the languages of other nationalities with whom we work and cooperate in this task of saving lives, ships and planes.

Can't Risk Mistakes

'Our information on sea and air traffic goes out in English, French and Spanish. We have to phrase that information so that it will translate in a clear cut manner."

Rear Adm. Smith not only commands the entire Eastern Area of the Coast Guard, but he also commands the Third District (New York Section) of the rescue operations, and also is Captain of the Port of New York.

His staff is headed by Capt. W. R. Richards as chief of staff, Capt. R. L. Burke as Operations and Air Officer, Lt. Commdr. R. M. Munroe as Public Information Officer and Lt. C. C. Lantz as Communications Officer.

The Eastern Area is divided into districts with headquarters at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Miami, New Orleans, San Juan (Porto Rico), and a floating district known as the North Atlantic Ocean Patrol.

Every Ship Charted

On a huge wall map in the headquarters operations room are magnetic markers which show at a glance the approximate location of every ship moving in the Atlantic or on the Gulf of Mexico. Also on this map are the air line routes operated on regular schedules. If the Coast Guard receives an SOS or other distress appeal, the Communications Officer can glance at the continuously changing map and tell within a matter of seconds what ships and what planes are in the vicinity of the vessel in distress. At the same time that he appeals to nearby ships, other branches of the Coast Guard rush cutters and planes out from the nearest ports. The Coast Guard works on the theory that it is safer to utilize all methods of rescue simultaneously rather than to attempt one at a time.

That was the way it worked in the Gander disaster when Coast Guard ships, foot guides, helicopters and amphibian planes all were ordered to the rescue at the same time. The helicopters were the ones that accomplished the feat, but the other means assisted materially.

In receiving messages of distress, Coast Guard communications frequently run into trouble because most SOS signals are sent through storms which strongly interfere with radio reception. This handicap is partially overcome as several Coast Guard radio stations at different points along the Atlantic Coast may receive a different part of a garbled SOS. These separate bits are quickly placed on the Coast Guard teletype network and when they are all patched together enough of the complete message is retrieved to give almost all information needed.

Marks the Spot

Another system is the almost fool proof plan of direction finders where separate stations pick up garbled radio beams from a ship in distress. By crossing the beams on the radio map, they can discover the approximate location.

While the Coast Guard encourages the public to call on them for help, some of these calls can be needless and at times have distressing aftermaths. For instance, the Coast Guard is frequently asked to search for overdue fishing vessels and the search quite often ends in finding that the fishing party has merely pulled up into some quiet cove for a prolonged session of poker. Commdr. Munroe points to the case of a search and rescue flight from the San Francisco Coast Guard station last August 7 when six Coast Guardsmen were killed in a plane crash. Later it was discovered that the fishing vessel for which they were searching had been safely anchored in the harbor at the time of the alert.

Bombs for Davy Jones

One of the most recent of its manifold duties, the Coast Guard now has the task of disposing of obsolete explosives and poison gas in the high seas. Several zones in the Atlantic have been designated as explosive dumping areas. In these areas, all 1,000 feet deep or more, bombs and shells which are defective and in danger of exploding or cans of poison gas are dumped with anchors of sufficient weight to keep them on the bottom. Along with this, the Coast Guard also has the task of collecting and detonating the considerable number of loose mines which broke away from their moorings during the war and are nw floating wild.

Despite modern efficiency and twentieth-century mechanical science which operate throughout the Coast Guard system, there remains an aura of salty, hard-bitten spirit.

An alert was recently sounded for a "missing" plane enroute from Knoxville, Tenn., to Greenville, N. C., and later it was found the alert was caused when the pilot failed to file a flight plan with the field from which he departed and failed to report in to the field headquarters where he landed.

Plain 'Lousy Airmanship

"This is another glaring example of neglect, disobedience of orders, inefficiency and downright lousy airmanship," commented the Coast Guard commander. "Now if you don't think the above is enough, consider the needless air searches, the hunts by state troopers, sheriffs, forest rangers—and expense of all the long distance phone calls."

But the Coast Guard never wavers in pursuing its Search and Rescue efforts, coordinating the efforts of their own forces with the Army Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Royal Canadian Navy, R.C.A.F., the Merchant Marine, C.A.A., W.S.A., F.C.C., commercial airlines, telephone, radio and cable companies. And one other profession with which they coordinate their activities, especially in the communications field, is that of newspapers and press associations. Vital news on every disaster at sea or in such wilds as Gander, Newfoundland, is routed by the Coast Guard to newspapers and broadcast stations with all possible speed so that anxiety over such disasters may be lessened as quickly as possible.

Numerous Inquiries About Karakul Sheep

Ithaca, N. Y.—Numerous inquiries have come to Prof. J. P. Willman of the animal husbandry department at Cornell on possibilities of raising Karakul sheep for profit. Some of the persons indicated they have read an article about this breed of sheep in magazines, and in a number of instances the persons who wrote have been veterans.

Willman advises them all to be cautious, to study the subject thoroughly, and to be reasonably sure they can raise the breed of sheep profitably before they buy a number of breeding animals. Prospective breeders should not be misled by extravagant claims about the value of the pelts, he says. "Learn prices for pelts from concerns that buy them before making a final decision."

Karakul sheep are important chiefly because they produce lambskins suitable for furs, designated generally by the trade names broadtail, Persian, and caracul. The wool is coarse and long and varies in color from black through various shades of brown to light gray. The breed, according to the Cornell professor, is hardy and able to exist under adverse conditions.

In replying to one person Willman said: "You say you have only seven acres of land for sheep production. This is a very small area on which to raise winter feed and also to provide grazing for any kind of sheep. Please keep in mind that sheep need, in addition to small quantities of grain, about one-third of a ton of hay a year, and that about five sheep can graze on the same area required for one cow. Perhaps you should consider poultry or swine production, or some other enterprise that may interest you."

There are only a few Karakul breeders in New York state, and most of them sell breeding stock rather than pelts, Willman points out.

The yellow mustard seed is sharper than the brown.

Alaskan "Blank"

Seattle, Washington — Long a "mystery" area of vague charts and sketchy information, the rocky shores and underwater formations of the storm-and-fog belt of Alaska now are being accurately mapped by "Shoran," a short range radar system. Teams of Army Engineers, the Air Forces and the Signal Corps are doing the job. In the peacetime Regular Army thousands of newly enlisted volunteers are being trained to handle "Shoran" and the many other radar and electronic instruments used by the services.

Ice Burned Off Airports

Washington—Two of winter's strongest weapons against the airlines, snow and ice, wil be pitted against a wartime weapon this year in a new phase of the constant battle to achieve all-weather flying. Flame-throwers, adapted for peacetime use by the U. S. Army's Chemical Warfare Service, will be used to keep runways clear by melting snow as it falls and ice as it forms.

Monk Armstrong Predicts Win for Townsend in B'nai B'rith Bout; Middies Hold Big Edge Over Maroon Since First Game in 1915

Ex-Diamond Belt Champ Says Local Boxer in Top Form

Wednesday's Fight Menu Topped by Jenkins-Jack Keaugh Five-Rounder at City Auditorium

That Tiny Townsend will be ready for Dick Cunningham when the Clevelander steps into B'nai B'rith ring for the semi-final at the municipal auditorium tomorrow night is vouched for by Monk Armstrong, former Diamond Belt champion.

"I've been working with Townsend since he accepted the match," Armstrong told a sports writer, "and that boy should be a winner —and can he hit!"

Armstrong, who was an athletic director in the army, says Tiny is as agile as when he boxed in Kingston as a lightweight years ago at the time amateur boxing was popular here. "Cunningham will have to be fast to tag him, and if Tiny lands one of those crushers it will be curtains for the Cleveland boy," Monk remarked.

Topping tomorrow night's card, slated to start at 9 o'clock, is the Ike Jenkins-Jackie Keaugh match, which is expected to draw many fans. Jenkins, a New York kayo puncher is favored to take the Cleveland Golden Gloves champ, by those who saw him flatten Buddy Matthews, metropolitan star, but the outcome remains to be seen.

In other five rounders, Roosevelt Flagg, Albany knockout puncher will meet Roosevelt Owens, New York city lightweight and Cliff Smith, Newburgh middleweight, will punch it out with Roy Kelly of New York.

The three rounders: Carl Reinhardt, 195, Newburgh, vs. Eddie Easeley, 200, Albany; Hank Liebermann, Ellenville middleweight, vs. Billy Daniels of Ravena; Eddie Albright, Kingston lightweight, vs. Johnny Davis of Albany.

Glenn Davis Rates As Hardest Player

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Glenn Davis, Army's all-American halfback, not only is the biggest yardage gainer, but is also the hardest [illegible] back in the east.

Figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Davis has taken part in 102 plays and has gained 718 yards, far more than any rivals. Of these, 74 were rushing plays which resulted in 468 yards gained by the California comet.

Runner-up to Davis in yardage is Joe Rogers of Villanova, who took part in 74 plays good for 550 yards. But Rogers leads Davis in yardage gained via rushing—with 510 yards on 66 plunges.

Winter Mixed League

George Castor spearheaded the Chalet team to three big upset victories over the Kaye Sportwair team in the Mixed League Sunday night with a blazing new high triple record for the league of 653. The former mark was held by Johnny Ferraro who had previously rolled 645.

Castor opened with a sizzling 224 single and then came back with equally good scores of 218 and 211 for his new mark. Johnny "Red" Sangi aided the cause with an opening game of 237 and wound up with a 564 triple. E. Lowe had a 203 solo for the winners. Johnny Schatzel's 231 single and 635 triple highlighted the Kaye club. Len Freer's 207 and 537 were next.

As a result of Sunday's matches, the S.J.S. team is still the league leader by two full games over Kayes, Leventhals, Williams Lake and Wilber Coal who are all tied for second with 13 triumphs and 11 setbacks.

The high-riding Wilber Coal club, with Harry Wilber unloading a brisk 242 in his first game, prevented the S.J.S. club from gaining ground as Wilbers took a pair of games. Wilber's 582 triple sparked the winners while Evelyn Francis banged out a fine 545 triple with a high game of 195. Don Peterson's 532 triple paced the losers.

Casey Griffin's 521 triple paced Williams Lake to a pair of wins over Leventhals. Ed Oughcltree and Chris Backman with 541 and 511 sparked the losers. Bud Evans' 198 single was high for the match.

The United Cleaners fell three games into last place by dropping two more to the Colonial Cleaners Sunday. Nick Turck's bandaged left hand and all, led the winners with a rousing 233 single and 588 triple while Bob Myers came on with 213 and 572. Johnny Ferraro's 526 topped the losers. Dick Howard posted a 518. Irwin Thomas had a 224 single and 505 series.

Game Is Postponed

Thursday's regularly scheduled Y.M.C.A. basketball league game between the Hustlers and Shamrocks has been postponed until Friday evening, November 1, due to the Halloween party and dance. Movies will be shown in the gymnasium.

Admiral Makes First

Los Angeles, Oct. 29 (AP)—Vice Adm. Jesse B. Oldendorf—skipper of U. S. naval forces at the Battle of Surigao Strait, now commandant of the 11th Naval District—who has been an ardent golfer for 40 years, yesterday, made his first hole in one.

Woman Billiard Ace Appears Here in Exhibition on Friday

Miss Ruth McGinnis Is Slated for Kaslich's Parlors in Match; Open to Public

Pocket billiard fans of Kingston are in for an unusual treat Friday evening November 1, when Miss Ruth McGinnis, women's world champion, will give a demonstration of her skill at Nick Kaslich's billiard parlor, 297 Wall street. The exhibition will commence at 10 o'clock and the public is invited. No admission will be charged.

This will be the first appearance here of the "Lady Cue Wizard" in four years during which time she was engaged in a defense plant.

Is Widely Acclaimed

Miss McGinnis, a graduate of State Teachers' College, East Stroudsburg, Pa., took up pocket billiards as a hobby and exhibited such skill at the popular indoor pastime that she was acclaimed world champion.

Miss McGinnis, who is slated to give another exhibition of her skill at the Y.M.C.A. on Broadway Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, started playing at the age of 7 and in a comparatively short time became so skillful that she won the world title at the age of 9.

She has a high run record of 128 and holds decisions over many professional experts who have already attested to her far-flung ability.

More Female Competitors

In the opinion of Miss McGinnis, she believes that the future holds a bright spot for the addition of many women competitors in the field of billiards. "It's rather a new sport for the women," Miss McGinnis has stated, "but there seems to be a general trend throughout the country for more women to take part in this wonderful indoor sport."

Backing up her statement, Miss McGinnis added that the way for more women to compete in billiards will be tremendously paved by progressive billiard room managers who will provide more opportunities for them in which to play.

Due to the lack of female competition, Miss McGinnis is slated to play the best local players available. Although no definite opponent for the lady champ has been named, there is every indication that she'll oppose Harold Quick, Kingston's number one billiard ace who has been connected with the sport for the past 10 or 12 years.

Following her exhibition match with the local opponent, Miss McGinnis is slated to give a series of unusual trick shots which have made her famous throughout all parts of the country.

In announcing the appearance of the "Lady Cue Wizard," Nick Kaslich, popular sports enthusiast of this city, has issued a cordial invitation to the women to attend the exhibition match Friday evening. "I'm sure Miss McGinnis is anxious to have a large gathering of women to see her in action," Nick stated.

Pinckert Has Plan

Los Angeles, Oct. 29 (AP)—Ernie Pinckert, former football star and now general manager of the Hollywood Professional Club in the Pacific Coast League, has an idea for the Bearns' Thanksgiving Day game with the Los Angeles Bulldogs. "We plan," said wisecracker Pinckert, "to serve a complete turkey dinner to anyone who buys a reserved seat. We gotta get 'em in the park some way." The Bulldogs drew 507 customers for a game Sunday.

Duke Will Be Coach

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—A former Villanova court star will coach the Albany Senators of the New York State Professional Basketball League. He is George Duke of New York city, who captained Villanova in 1938. His appointment was announced by Joe Tholl, club secretary.

'Y' Varsity Cagers Slated For Opening Drill Friday

Lou Schafer Optimistic on Coming Campaign; All Members Asked to Attend Practice

The Y.M.C.A. varsity basketball team will hold its first workout of the season Friday night, Lou Schafer, physical director said this morning. The opening rehearsal is slated for the "Y" court and will get underway at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Players Are Invited

Schafer disclosed that all members of the "Y" who desire to compete for the varsity club were cordially invited to attend the drill. It also is planned to form a junior varsity squad if the response is satisfactory to such an organization.

The "Y" physical director expressed hope today that the varsity aggregation will be sufficiently conditioned to open the 1946-47 campaign the early part of December. "We had a great season last year," Lou commented this morning "and we're out to do even better this season."

Last year the varsity quintet won 20 games and lost only 10 and finished in the runner-up position in the Y.M.C.A. Gold Medal Basketball Tournament held at the local "Y".

Tournament Planned

Schafer also hinted today that plans are going ahead to sponsor another gold medal tournament near the close of the present season if all goes well. "We have had many inquiries about this set-up," Lou said, "and I think there will be ample interest to hold such a tournament again."

The "Y" official also stated that plans are being negotiated to enter the local varsity squad in the New York State Y.M.C.A. championship.

"We had a club during the last regular season which showed plenty of class," Schafer added, "and I'm sure they could have given any team in that state championship tournament a real fight for top honors."

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

Don't start worrying about your old age insurance just because you can remember way back when a 500 triple by a local female kegler occasioned considerable much ado about the event. It wasn't that long ago. It was in that era sometime between the depression and the age of Frank Sinatra.

We mention Sinatra not because of his bowling (he has a 150 average) but rather for his influence on the mental gyrations of a large segment of America's female adolescents. In those days the bobby sockers were classified in two brackets—either they like The Voice or disliked him. Now we are told nobody likes the famous refugee from a sirloin steak except his sponsors and the movie moguls. The poor kid is trying to struggle along at a million bucks per annum.

Female bowling was just like that a few years ago in Kingston. If you could bowl 500, you probably had a halo around your head and you were reasonably certain the railbirds would flock around the particular set of drives where you were bowling. Sometimes you even got a writeup and might even be interviewed. If you shoot 500 these days, you pay the same price as your teammate and the only personal satisfaction you might derive is the fact that your average goes up and you can go home and tell the old man what a lousy kegler he is.

During last week's firing in the distaff circuits, eleven women rolled 500 or better. It's practically contagious these days. Rose Schatzel and Marge Jansen, two of the tenpin dowagers, tied for high triple honors with 536. . . . Mrs. Schatzel posted a 225 singleton, while Mrs. Jansen rolled 218. . . . Evelyn Dolson who was hitting 500s before Sinatra came along, posted 528. . . . Josephine Smith tripled for 526 and Mrs. Etta Ginder unobstrusively cleaned up 524. . . . There were others, too, notably Betty Boyce with 522, Evelyn Moore 520; Marge Van Alstyne 521, Dot Flemings 516, Reta Fredericks 508 and B. Webber 506.

THE ACE DOES IT AGAIN: Top male performer of the week was Johnny Ferraro with 254 and 653. . . . Phil Masters wheeled 637, Bill Kuehn 637, Ken Williams 613, and John Schatzel 600 in the Central Major. . . . Jerry Woodvine knocked off 606 on the Y drives, while Eddie Sohm reeled off 662 in the Midnight League with games of 216, 232, 214. . . . Wilber Coal Company furnished a high scoring sidelight in the Independent League with a 1087 blast for a new season's record. . . . Ward DuBois led the scoring spree with 235. . . . Joe Brown fired 220, Sam Hayes 215, Herman Osmers 207 and Harry Wilber 181.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

The "Old Pro" showed his class again by striking out in the 10th frame to beat Poughkeepsie by 3 pins. . . . Merlin Tice, Poughkeepsie anchor, [illegible] and all, calmly rocketed three balls into the pocket. . . . A great guy to have on your side on any team or in any league. . . . There is no substitute for the real thing. . . . Mineralistic, a war-time replacement for alley shellac—is as close to the McCoy as powdered eggs are to the kind mom collects in the chicken coop. . . . Cecil Rhodes, one of Newburgh's all-time bowling greats, devoting his talents to the commercial side of the game as manager at the Middletown Recreation. . . . In his prime, Rhodes was one of the truly great pocket hitters of the area. . . . Won't somebody please help John Bailey get a grudge match started! . . . Johnny Ferraro will defend his Bill Nast Sweepstake title won last season. . . . It's worth $1,500. . . . The American Bowling and Billiard team is burning up the Metropolitan Major League with 18 straight victories. . . . The squad features Marty Cassio, Dom Suraci, Mort Lindsey and Frank Seaton.

ORCHIDS to the Kingston High School varsity for its magnificent 6-0 upset over Newburgh. . . . Everybody was great but Bill Kitsos and Mike Rienzo were slightly terrific. . . . Kitsos smashing defensive play ranked with the greates all-time individual performances in Maroon history.

Whatever became of Whitey Crispell?

Western Conference Has Plan for Games At Pasadena Bowl

Chicago, Oct. 29 (AP)—The Western Conference appeared to be ready today to send a representative to the Rose Bowl for the first time in 26 years.

Purdue's faculty committee has joined with Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Ohio State in signifying approval of a 5-year proposal which would give the big nine champion, or alternate, the Pasadena trip for three successive years and teams designated by the conference Rose Bowl representation the final two years.

Spokesmen of the five schools have unofficially reported acceptance, thus indicating a 5-4 majority to carry the proposal which was put up for ballot vote among the nine conference members. Illinois and Minnesota were reported to disfavor the hookup with the Pacific Coast Conference, while Northwestern and Wisconsin have yet to ballot on the matter.

The results of the poll, however, will not become official until the Dec. 14 meeting of the big nine, Commissioner K. L. Wilson said. The Pacific coast winter meeting is scheduled Dec. 9.

Player of Week

Philadelphia, Oct. 29 (AP)—Romeo Cappriotti, Villanova College halfback, was named the "player of the week" by the Maxwell Football Club. The Villanova grid star, who lost part of of his left heel during the war while fighting in Italy, received the award at the club's luncheon yesterday for his brilliant backfield work in sparking Villanova to victory over Georgetown.

Jerry Rullo Signed

Philadelphia, Oct. 29 (AP)—Jerry Rullo, former Temple University basketball player who was named to the mythical all-Pennsylvania and all-Philadelphia district teams in 1944-45, has been signed to play with the Philadelphia Warriors in the Basketball Association of America.

Middletown High Hasn't Lost Game To Locals Since '39

Middletown Eleven Has Registered 19 Wins in 31 Games Played Between Two Schools

Coach Willard Burke's inspired Kingston High School football team not only has a big score to settle with Middletown for the previous 31 to 7 pasting received here at municipal stadium October 11, but will attempt to gain revenge for Middletown's all-around supremacy through the long span of years which finds the Orange county gridders away on top in the matter of games won and lost, when the two DUSO League rivals battle it out Saturday afternoon at Wilson Field.

Since the 1915 campaign when Kingston bopped the Middies in two straight, 12 to 7 and 33 to 0, Middletown has held the upper hand in the 31 games played with a record of 19 victories and only nine defeats. Three of the games ended in ties.

The margin of victory which Middletown holds over the Broadway school is very much backed up by its impressive scoring record. Middletown has accumulated a total of 429 points in the 31 games while Kingston has pushed over 206. These statistics include the first Middie-Maroon game of 1946.

So it will be with interest that these two clubs collide next Saturday afternoon. Kingston, fresh from a 6 to 0 upset over Newburgh, appears to be at its strongest level of the year. Middletown, refreshened by trimming Port, 38 to 0, after dropping a 33 to 21 decision at Newburgh the week before, is eyeing the game with everything. It should be an all-out affair for both squads.

Middies Are Favorites

On the basis of play this year, and to be sure, this phase doesn't always tell the story, Coach Ed Rodiek's vaunted Orange county moleskinners will go into the vital clash as slight favorites to trip Kingston.

The Middies rate this edge for their scoring punch which has been evident in the three games played when they scored an average of 30 points per game for an exact total of 90 against Newburgh, Port and Kingston. On the other hand, the Burkemen, although improving steadily, have collected a low total of 25 markers.

Middletown, with only one defeat this year, has smashed Kingston (31-7) and Port (38-0) while losing to Newburgh (33-21). The Maroons' best scoring threat came in the 12 to 0 triumph over Port.

Despite the odds, however, anything may happen as it did here last Friday night. There's no getting away from it that the Maroon club has come a long way in recent weeks. The team's blocking and tackling is a true backer of that statement.

Must Halt Passers

Kingston's biggest weapon in Saturday's game will be a staunch pass defense to cope with the aerial goings-on of Herc Thornton and company. In beating Kingston, 31 to 7, Middletown displayed one of the finest over-head offensives in recent DUSO League history by gaining a total of 167 yards in 11 completions. That alone beat Kingston.

The Middies will go into Saturday's contest with the hope of protecting their seven-game winning streak over Maroon clubs. Kingston last trounced the Middies in 1939 by 18 to 13 and with the exception of the 1940 campaign when the clubs played a 6-6 tie, the Orangemen have ripped off seven wins in a row.

Middletown's impressive success string over Kingston was started in 1941 when the former won by 19-7. Middletown conked out a 39 to 0 win in 1942 and 25 to 7 in 1943. The Middies walloped Kingston twice in 1944 by 32-0 and 20-6 and carried on the same antics in 1945 by 21 to 19 and 6 to 0.

College Coach Says Prexy 'Fired' Him

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 29 (AP)—Henry (Hank) Johnson, football coach at American International College, today said he was "fired" between the halves of Saturday's Springfield game by Dr. William Gellerman, college president.

Johnson said that later he was told he could stay on for the remainder of the season but that his contract would not be renewed for next year. He declined to make any comment because, he said, he does not believe in airing "controversies between college presidents and football coaches."

Brooklyn Dodgers Sign Bob Newhart For 1947 Season

Highland Falls Player Was Selected Most Outstanding Man in Game at Stadium

Bob "Irish" Newhart, one of the Hudson Valley's best looking prospects, has been signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League through A. B. "Turk" Karam, Dodger scout, it was learned today.

Newhart, who played with the Hudson Valley Stars in the September 3 game at municipal stadium against the Brooklyn Dodger Juniors, is slated to play with Ponca City, Okla., in the Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri League in 1947.

Bob's fine all-around play was honored during his exhibition here when a committee including Coach Willard Burke, Coach Russ Cunningham, Warren Smith, Jack Dawkins and Joe Messinger, selected him as the outstanding Hudson Valley player in that contest. Newhart rapped out a double and triple in three trips to the plate during the game.

Newhart, who is now attending Highland Falls High School in preparation to enter college next year, said he plans to play ball only in the summer during the 1947 season.

He graduated from Highland Falls before entering service. During the 1946 campaign he played with the Newburgh Grandstand Club of the Mid-Hudson Valley Baseball League.

Middletown Stops Newburgh, 13 to 6 In Valley League

Victory Causes Tie With Walden for Top Berth; Orange County Team Plays Here Sunday

The Middletown Blue Devils, who will appear in Kingston Sunday afternoon, continued their streak Sunday by knocking out a 13 to 6 victory over the Newburgh Merchants in a regular Hudson Valley League contest.

The game was played in a sea of water and mud. Middletown took its 13 to 6 lead in the first two periods and managed to defend the margin during the final half.

As a result of the victory, Middletown moved into a two-way tie for first place with the Walden Red Tigers. Both clubs have won three games without a defeat.

Russ Cortese hung up both touchdowns for the Blue Devils, one on a beautiful 70-yard gallop. Tony Gobeo's pass to Cortese provided the extra point. Ace Accilli counted for Newburgh with a 50 yard sprint on some great broken-field running.

League standings to date:

| | Won | Lost | T. | Pts. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Walden | 3 | 0 | 2 | 8 |
| Middletown | 3 | 0 | 2 | 8 |
| Kingston | 2 | 2 | 0 | 4 |
| Newburgh | 1 | 3 | 0 | 2 |
| Port Jervis | 0 | 4 | 0 | 0 |

Education Boards Keep Roosevelts Out of Assembly

Tuckahoe, N. Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—The boards of education of two school districts in Eastchester township have turned down arrangements made between the local Democratic chairman and school principals to have Elliott Roosevelt and his wife address student assemblies at four schools Thursday.

The schools at which the son of the late president and his wife, actress Faye Emerson, were to speak are the Eastchester High School and Waverly School in district 1 and Tuckahoe High School and the Main Street School in district 2.

In a statement yesterday, the board of district 1 said:

"The Board of Education announces it has not granted permission to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt to address the students of the Eastchester High School and the Waverly School on October 31, because the attendant local newspaper publicity coupled with the closeness of the election day, has cast about their proposed visits a political atmosphere.

"The Board of Education does not believe it appropriate to convoke assemblies of the Eastchester High School for anything that might be construed as political."

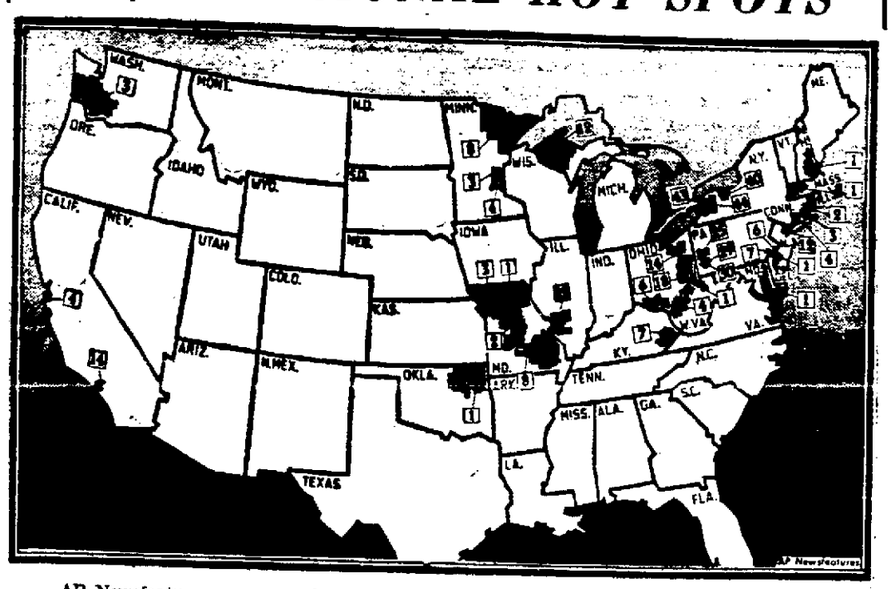

Joseph Venuti, Democratic chairman in this section of Westchester county, who made the arrangements last Tuesday with the principals, said the action of the boards was "strictly political, narrow minded and small potatoes."

He said the proposed visit was free of political design, adding Roosevelt intended to speak about the Yalta Conference, while his wife intended to discuss school dramatics and motion pictures.

Dr. James A. Mullen, a member of the District 2 Board, said his group agreed in substance with the statement of the other board. He added the P.-T. A. of Tuckahoe High School objected to the proposed visit because "it appeared to be political."

The records of the Plymouth colony show that ten barrels of cranberries were sent as a gift to Charles II of England.

Democrats See 3 Possible Losses In West Virginia

By HARRY W. BALL

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 29 (AP)—Despite their statewide registered majority of around 175,000, some prominent Democrats concede close races and possible losses in three of West Virginia's six congressional districts.

One of these districts is the first, where the veteran campaigner Matthew M. Neely was able to win in 1944 by fewer than 1,000 votes.

One other district was captured last time by fewer than 5,000. This was the fourth. The seat is now occupied by Republican Hubert S. Ellis. The Democrats say they figure to win it with a newcomer to politics, M. G. Burnside of Huntington, a Marshall professor, who won a lopsided primary victory.

The other two districts which the Democrats concede they may lose are the second, now represented by Jennings Randolph, and the third, represented by Cleveland M. Bailey.

Democratic sources feel the registered majorities are too big for Republican candidates to overcome in the fifth and sixth districts.

The first district traditionally goes from one political party to the other. Neely's opponent is Francis Love of Wheeling.

Randolph, who has been in Congress since 1932, is opposed by Melvin C. Snyder, ex-army colonel and for many years prosecutor of his home county of Preston.

Bailey is opposed in the third district by E. G. Rohrbough, retired college president. Bailey beat him two years ago by 5,455 votes.

Burnside proved himself a formidable campaigner by defeating two strong opponents in the primary, and the fourth district might conceivably be close unless there is a landslide for one party or the other.

Burnside has labor support, but in Ellis' favor is the fact that the fourth district is largely rural and traditionally Republican.

Rep. John Kee, in the fifth, is opposed by Hartley Sanders, Princeton attorney and the Republican nominee in 1944.

A young municipal judge and a vigorous campaigner is opposing Rep. E. H. Hedrick in the sixth. This is 38-year-old Harold H. Neff, who attracted wide attention in the primary with an ice cream truck in which he toured his district passing out cones to the kiddies, at the same time giving them a campaign card to take home.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Train Decisions Truck

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 29 (AP)—A train struck a truck here—and the truck struck back.

The train won the decision.

Lester Arthur Shelton, 51, was driving the truck when it was hit by a speeding passenger train. The truck was shoved into a yard, remained in gear and ran back into the side of the train. It bounced along for about half a block before disentangling itself. Shelton was treated in Culver Hospital for minor injuries.

No Sale

Chillicothe, Mo., Oct. 29 (AP)—Wilbur Dunnington knew there was a shortage of white shirts, but he didn't know it had come to this.

Wearing one, a pre-war model, he walked into a clothing store. A clerk eyed the garment, offered to buy it, explaining: "I'm all out of shirts myself."

Dunnington didn't sell.

Rattled on Snake Hunt

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 29 (AP)—An excited woman telephoned police and said a four foot snake, coiled and ready to strike, was on a lawn in Dempster street.

John Hoffman, the department's dog catcher, sped to the scene. He approached cautiously as he spotted what appeared the reptile the woman had reported. It was four feet long, five inches in diameter, and had ten rattles.

Hoffman fired one shot and the snake exploded into a dozen pieces. Hoffman picked up a piece of the snake's stomach and read "Made in Texas." The snake was made of plaster of Paris.

Will Cut Passenger Loads

London, Oct. 29 (AP)—British Overseas Airways Corp. announced today that the transatlantic passenger load of each of its planes will be reduced immediately from 24 to 18 to permit an increase in fuel supplies carried during the winter as a safety measure.

Push-button Flight

Dayton, Ohio—Back in 1932 an adventurous Army pilot here made the first solo "blind" flight, taking off and landing entirely by instrument control. Today, only 15 years later, the newest advance in this line is "push-button" flight, which permits a pilot to push buttons that not only take the plane off the ground but also guide it automatically by radio instruments to another airport hundreds of miles away.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT
(For Hal Boyle)

Venice, Oct. 29 (AP)—Venice longs for the tourists of a golden yesteryear.

A nostalgic "now, before the war . . ." is the invariable conversational gambit of all who, in happier days, catered to the thousands from every land lured to this water-set jewel among cities.

The withered old lady in St. Mark's Square who peddles tiny cornucopias of grain for the pirouetting pigeons, the ancient photographer who for a few lire will picture you smothered in the pigeons, the venerable guides with their encyclopedic lore about the 120 "doges" (dukes) of the Venetian republic, the gondoliers nodding beneath the Bridge of Sighs . . . all shake their heads sadly and say:

"If only the tourists would come back!"

Here, as in perhaps no other Italian city spared the devastation of war, there is bitter, articulate, highly personalized resentment against Benito Mussolini and his Fascists for taking Italy into World War 2.

That is partly because Venice, historically international of outlook, finds repugnant the narrow nationalism of Fascist adventure; but more because the Venetians, practical folk, have been sorely wounded in their pocketbooks.

Tourists' Paradise

Venice is the tourist's paradise par excellence.

Guidebooks err on the side of exaggeration slightly, if at all, when they call this "an extraordinary city, unique in the world," and add:

"The purity of its atmosphere, free of dust, the importance and number of its monuments, the extraordinary richness of the works of art . . ., the greatness of its historical records, the originality of its life and customs, the play of the water which reflects and multiplies perspectives, forms and colors all render a stay here varied and extremely pleasant."

The chief marvel of this city of marvels is that it exists at all.

Necessity has mothered many great things, but few such as this refuge among the waters the early Venetians made for themselves against the tide of barbarian invasion washing southward.

Man's Handiwork

Even the much-traveled must be amazed that upon this archipelago of 118 small islands, many of them no better than mud flats, man's hands have raised immense, ornate, enduring edifices sufficient to house nearly 300,000 persons; and that, because there is not earth enough to support the turning wheel, man's ingenuity has interconnected them by bridge and boat.

Even the blase must own to wonder at this renewed proof of man's adaptability to elements not his own, at the sight of all a great city's travel and transport handled by aquatic conveyance, at the view of tiny tots perched precariously atop narrow gondolas, tooling them along with all the nonchalance of earth-bound youngsters riding bicycles.

A quiddity that may win a drink at a bar:

How many "canals" are there in Venice?

Answer: Not 160, as most guidebooks will tell you, but just one, the Grand Canal, which serpentines through Venice from Piazzale Roma (where the automobile highway ends) to St. Mark's Square.

All the other waterways are, strictly, "rii" the plural of the old Italian word meaning "rivulet" or "brooks" which persist in the Spanish as the specific word for "river."

News of Our Own Service Folk

Army Enlistments

The local army recruiting sergeant today announced that six young men from Ulster county have enlisted in the regular army. They are:

Kingston—Donald J. Culjak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Culjak, 24 Adams street; Peter R. Cooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cooney also of 24 Adams street; Robert E. Boss, son of Chief of Police and Mrs. Ernest A. Boss, 103 Foxhall avenue; Murray L. Coran, son of Mrs. Blanche Coran, R.F.D. 3, Box 36.

High Falls—Fred J. Moone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moone, Box 32; Earl W. LeFevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. LeFevre.

Educational benefits can still be earned under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Any person who enlists in the regular army, after having served 90 days or more will be entitled to one full year of schooling at government expense plus one calendar month of schooling for each month of honorable service prior to the termination of the present war. All benefits under the provisions of the G.I. Bill of Rights remain in effect until the termination of the present war. Additional information may be had by contacting the local recruiting sergeant, Room 201, central post office building, Kingston.

Among men recently discharged from the army at Fort Dix, N. J., was Robert J. Jordan, T/5 of 15 Purvis street.
